
Official Inspection of the Fortifications

YESTERDAY morning Colonel Roberts, from Sydney, accompanied by Colonel Richardson and other gentlemen, made an official visit of inspection to the Newcastle fortification works now in course of progress on Allan's Hill. They were shown round the works by the contractor (Mr. Russell) and Mr. Campbell, Government engineer in charge. A minute examination was made of detail, and Colonel Roberts expressed himself highly satisfied with the way in which the contract is being carried out. Since the recent visit of the Premier and Ministerial party, good work has been done. In several cases the stone races for the casements are in position and finished, and other work considerably advanced.

1881, October 29th. Newcastle Morning Herald & Miners Advocate, p.4
Official Inspection of the fortifications by Colonel Roberts and Colonel Richardson on Allan's Hill.

Official Inspection of the Fortifications

Yesterday morning Colonel Roberts, from Sydney, accompanied by Colonel Richardson and other gentlemen, made an official visit of inspection to the Newcastle fortification works now in course of progress on Allan's Hill. They were shown round the works by the contractor (Mr. Russell) and Mr. Campbell, Government engineer in charge. A minute examination was made of detail, and Colonel Roberts expressed himself highly satisfied with way in which the contract is being carried out. Since the recent visit of the Premier and Ministerial party, good work has been done. In several cases the stone races for the casements are in position and finished, and other work considerably advanced.