Introduction

The University of New South Wales was founded in 1949, originally under the name of the New South Wales University of Technology, to help meet the need for graduates in the established scientific and engineering disciplines and to develop studies in newer technological fields. Early in its history the University decided to include in its scientific and technological courses a group of compulsory subjects in the humanities and social sciences. Over the years, under the aegis of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, strong departments were built up in English, history, philosophy, government, sociology, psychology and economics to carry out this policy.

In 1958 the University was empowered to extend its activities to include instruction for degrees in arts. The Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences was accordingly re-constituted as the Faculty of Arts based on the departments referred to above. In 1960 courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts were introduced for the first time, such courses being offered on a full-time basis only.

A distinctive feature of the Arts courses is the requirement that all students shall take at least two consecutive courses in Scientific Thought or in one of the natural sciences. This is an extension of the policy of prescribing for all students a number of subjects of general educational importance outside their chosen field.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts may be conferred as a degree in general studies, as a degree in special studies, or as a degree in combined special studies. The regulations governing the award of the degree in these three categories are set out later. The qualifying subjects have been classified into seven groups, details of which are given in paragraph 5 of the regulations governing the award of the B.A. degree.

At the post-graduate level, qualified students may register for the degrees of Master of Arts, Master of Librarianship or Doctor of Philosophy. The regulations governing the award of these degrees are published annually in the University Calendar.

The Faculty of Arts also conducts diploma courses at the undergraduate and post-graduate level. The undergraduate course in Sociology extends over three years of part-time study and leads to the Diploma in Sociology (Dip.Soc.). At the post-graduate level, a course in librarianship leading to a diploma (Dip.Lib.) is available. Complete details of these diploma courses are given at the end of this book.

B.A. Degree in General Studies

The Bachelor of Arts degree in general studies is awarded at the pass level on completion of ten courses in a minimum of three years selected from the seven groups in accordance with the regulations which are set out in detail later in this Handbook.

The course in general studies is designed to provide for a relatively wide spread of the student's effort over a number of different subjects. Candidates who have completed the requirements for the pass degree at a sufficiently high standard may take two further advanced courses in a fourth year to qualify for a degree with honours in general studies. Among the conditions governing the award of the degree in general studies the more important are that no more than six courses may be selected from any one group, and that at least two consecutive courses must normally be taken from the subjects in Group VII.

A typical example of a course satisfying the requirements for the degree in general studies would be:

- English I, II, III.
- History I, II.
- Economics I, II.
- Scientific Thought I, II.
- Sociology I.

History III, and Economics III could be taken in a fourth year for honours.

B.A. Degree in Special Studies or Combined Special Studies

In contrast to the course in general studies the conditions governing the award of the degree in special studies are designed to enable students to undertake the specialist study in one School, or in certain cases, in two Schools. Students will study for a minimum of four years and will be regarded as proceeding to an honours degree. Normally five courses are taken in the special field over four years of study, together with four subsidiary subjects which should include two consecutive courses from Group VII.

A candidate for the degree in special studies in two Schools will take three consecutive courses in each School to third year and in his fourth year will take a special honours course designed by the Heads of the two Schools concerned. Once again two courses, normally consecutive courses, must be taken from Group VII except where Faculty has granted special permission for a student to take one subject only from Group VII.

The full requirements governing the award of the degree in general studies, special studies, and combined special studies are set out on pages 28 to 33.

General Information

MATRICULATION REQUIREMENTS

Candidates may qualify for entry to undergraduate courses by complying with the matriculation requirements set out below at the Leaving Certificate Examination held by the Department of Education or the Matriculation Examination conducted by the University of Sydney.

The Leaving Certificate Examination is usually held in November, and entries must be lodged with the Department of Education during August.

The Matriculation Examination is held in February, and applications must be lodged at the University of Sydney during the first ten days of January except by candidates who have taken the Leaving Certificate Examination in the previous November. The closing date for such candidates will be announced when the Leaving Certificate results are published.

1. (i) A candidate for any first degree of the University must satisfy the conditions for admission set out hereunder before entering upon the prescribed course for a degree. Compliance with these conditions does not in itself entitle a student to enter upon a course.

(ii) A candidate who has satisfactorily met the conditions for admission and has been accepted by the University shall be classed as a "matriculated student" of the University after enrolment.

(iii) A person who has satisfactorily met the conditions for admission may be provided with a statement to that effect on the payment of the prescribed matriculation fee.

2. (i) For the purpose of matriculation approved subjects* are grouped as follows:—

- A. English.
- B. Latin, Greek, French, German, Italian, Hebrew, Chinese, Japanese, Russian, Dutch, Geography, Ancient History, Modern History, Economics.
- C. Mathematics I, Mathematics II, Mathematics III.
- E. Accountancy, Art, Descriptive Geometry and Drawing, Music, Theory and Practice of Music.

* It should be noted that certain subjects taken for the Leaving Certificate are not approved subjects for admission to the University of New South Wales.
(ii) In order to satisfy the conditions for admission to undergraduate courses leading to a degree, candidates must pass the New South Wales Leaving Certificate Examination conducted by the Department of Education, or the University of Sydney Matriculation Examination in at least five approved subjects at the one examination; provided that:

I. either—

(a) the five subjects include English and at least one subject from each of Groups B and C, but do not include more than one subject from Group E, except that candidates may qualify for admission to the Faculty of Arts only, by passing in one subject from Group D in lieu of the subject from Group C.

or (b) the five subjects include English, and at least one subject from either Group B or Group C, but do not include more than one subject from Group E, and provided further that the five passes include either one first class Honours and two A's or two Honours of which one is first class;

and:

II. (a) neither Physics nor Chemistry is offered with the combined subject Physics and Chemistry;

(b) neither Botany nor Zoology is offered with Biology;

(c) neither Botany nor Zoology nor Biology is offered with Physiology;

(d) neither Mathematics I nor Mathematics II nor Mathematics III is offered with General Mathematics;

(e) neither Mathematics I nor Mathematics II is offered with Mathematics III;

(f) Mathematics I or Mathematics II may be counted as an approved subject only if the candidate presented himself for examination in both Mathematics I and Mathematics II;

(g) Theory and Practice of Music is accepted only in cases where the pass was obtained at an examination in 1946 or subsequent years;

(h) Ancient History is accepted only in cases where the pass was obtained at an examination held in 1945 or subsequent years; and further, both Modern History and Ancient History may be offered as qualifying subjects at the examinations held at the end of 1951 and subsequent years;

(i) Agriculture is accepted only in cases where the pass was obtained at an examination held in 1945 or subsequent years;

(j) Economics is accepted only in cases where the pass was obtained at an examination held in 1945 or subsequent years;

(k) Descriptive Geometry and Drawing is accepted only in cases where the pass was obtained at an examination held in 1954 or subsequent years.

(iii) Candidates who have satisfactorily met the matriculation requirements of the University of Sydney, but who have not obtained the requisite pass in Mathematics where prescribed for entrance to the University of New South Wales, will be permitted to complete their qualifications to enter the University of New South Wales by passing only in a Mathematics subject from Group C, at a subsequent Leaving Certificate or University of Sydney Matriculation Examination.

ADMISSIONS OFFICE

The Admissions Office provides intending students (both local and overseas) with information regarding courses, admission requirements, scholarships and enrolment.

Applications for special admission or admission with advanced standing to courses laid down in the University Calendar should be made at the Admissions Office. Such applications should be lodged prior to 31st December of the year preceding that in which admission is sought. Where applicable, documentary evidence should be tendered on lodging the application. Copies should accompany the originals, as this will allow the immediate return of original documents.

Applications should be made at the Admissions Office by all students who wish to defer or resume courses of study, transfer from one course to another, or apply for any concession in relation to a course in which they are enrolled. Such applications should be lodged before the commencement of the academic year in which the concession is to apply.

The Admissions Office also operates an Enrolment Bureau for the enrolment of undergraduate students enrolling with the University for the first time. Details of the procedure to be followed by such students are set out below in the section dealing with Enrolment.

The location of the Admissions Office is in the Main Building at Kensington (telephone 663-0351). Office hours are from 9.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m., although an evening service will be provided if the need arises.
ENROLMENT PROCEDURE FOR UNDERGRADUATE COURSES

Complete details of enrolment procedure are contained in the booklets “Enrolment Procedure for New Students” and “Enrolment Procedure for Students Re-enrolling,” which set out the relevant information for new students and later year students respectively. Briefly, all students are required to attend the appropriate enrolment centre at the prescribed time and to complete enrolment by the payment of fees by the required date. While course details must be completed during Enrolment Week, fees may be paid without penalty during the first two weeks of first term. For details of fee requirements, including late fee provisions, see later under Fees.

No enrolments will be accepted after 31st March without the express approval of the Registrar, which will be given in exceptional circumstances only.

All students should obtain a copy of the “Handbook for New Students” which is available free of charge on payment of fees.

New Students

Application for enrolment in 1965 must wherever possible be made in person to the Student Enrolment Bureau, First Floor, Building F, Kensington, as soon as the results of the Leaving Certificate Examination are published, but in any event not later than 27th January.

Country residents who wish to enrol with the University in 1965 should write to the Registrar, P.O. Box 1, Kensington, for a form on which to make their preliminary application. This form must be returned not later than 27th January.

It is expected that all properly qualified candidates for enrolment in the Faculty of Arts will be accepted. This expectation is based on consideration of estimated enrolments and the accommodation and staff likely to be available, but should enrolment estimates be exceeded or staff shortages become acute, restrictions may have to be imposed. Early application, therefore, is essential.

New students will complete their enrolment with the Enrolment Centre at a specified appointment time during the week commencing Monday, 15th February, 1965. Fees must be paid at the time of enrolment.

1st Year Repeats

First Year students who failed all subjects at the 1964 Annual Examinations and who were not given any deferred examinations must attend the Student Enrolment Bureau between the date of publication of the Leaving Certificate results and the 27th January if they wish to re-enrol. It will be assumed that students in this category who do not apply for re-enrolment by 27th January do not intend to re-enrol and a class place will not be reserved for them.

Later Year Enrolments

Full-time Degree Courses

All students, except new First Year students and students who failed all subjects in 1964, are required to attend for enrolment in Building F, Rooms 208 and 209, according to the following timetable:

- Second Year students whose surnames have initial letters “A” to “J” Tuesday, 23rd February 9.30 a.m. to 12 noon
- Second Year students whose surnames have initial letters “K” to “P” Tuesday, 23rd February 3.00 p.m. to 5.00 p.m.
- Second Year students whose surnames have initial letters “Q” to “Z” Wednesday, 24th February 9.30 a.m. to 12 noon
- Third Year students and Honours Year students Wednesday, 24th February 2.00 p.m. to 4.30 p.m.

Part-time Sociology Diploma

All students are required to attend for enrolment in Building F, Room 208, on Wednesday, 24th February, 5.30 p.m. to 8.30 p.m.

Enrolment forms will be available at the enrolment points.

Miscellaneous Subjects

Students may be accepted for enrolment in miscellaneous subjects provided the University considers that the subject/s will be of benefit to the student and there is accommodation available. Under no circumstances will subjects taken in this way count towards a degree or diploma.

Students wishing to enrol in subjects offered in the Faculty of Arts must first obtain permission from the Head of the appropriate School or his representative and then attend for enrolment at the times specified below as follows:

- Faculty Office, Room 119, First Floor, Building “F.”
  - Friday, 26th February 2.00 p.m. to 4.30 p.m.
  - 6.00 p.m. to 7.30 p.m.

Enrolment in German and Italian at the University of Sydney

Arts students who wish to take courses in German and Italian at the University of Sydney to count towards their degree, should:
1. Enrol as Irregular Students at the Fees Office of the University of Sydney before 27th January, 1965.
2. Present to the Fees Office at the time of enrolment a letter from the Faculty of Arts of this University stating that:
   (a) the student concerned is enrolled at the University of New South Wales;
   (b) if appropriate, that the student holds a Teachers’ College Warrant No.
3. Register with the appropriate Department at the University of Sydney.
University Union Card

All students other than miscellaneous students are issued with a University Union membership card. This card must be carried during attendance at the University and shown on request.

The number appearing on the front of the card in the space at the top right-hand corner is the student registration number used in the University's records. This number should be quoted in all correspondence.

The card must be presented when borrowing from the University libraries, when applying for Travel Concessions and when notifying a change of address. It must also be presented when paying fees on re-enrolment each year when it will be made valid for the year and returned. Failure to present the card could result in some inconvenience in completing re-enrolment.

A student who loses a Union Card must notify the University Union as soon as possible.

New students will be issued with University Union cards by mail to their term address as soon as possible after fee payment. In the meantime, the fees receipt form should be carried during attendance at the University and shown on request. If the Union card is not received within three weeks of fee payment the Examinations Branch should be notified.

CHANGES IN COURSE PROGRAMMES

Students seeking approval of a change in their course programme or seeking to withdraw from subjects must make application to the Head of the School responsible for the course on a form available from school offices. The Registrar will inform students of the decision. Approval of withdrawal from subjects is not automatic, each application being determined after considering the circumstances advanced as justifying withdrawal. It should be noted that a student is regarded as having failed in a subject if he enrolled in it in any year and did not pass the annual examination—not sitting for the examination is regarded as not passing the examination.

RESTRICTION UPON STUDENTS RE-ENROLLING IN UNIVERSITY COURSES

The University Council has adopted the following rules governing re-enrolment with the object of requiring students with a record of failure to show cause why they should be allowed to re-enrol and retain valuable class places. These rules will be applied retrospectively from January, 1962, and the attention of students is drawn to them.

(i) As from 1st January, 1962, a student shall show cause why he should be allowed to repeat a subject in which he has failed more than once. (Failure in a deferred examination as well as in the annual examination counts, for the purpose of this regulation, as one failure). Where such subject is prescribed as a part of the student's course he shall be required to show cause why he should be allowed to continue the course. A student in the medical course shall show cause why he should be allowed to repeat the second year of the course if he has failed more than once to qualify for entry to the third year.

(ii) Notwithstanding the provisions of Clause (i), a student shall be required to show cause why he should be allowed to continue a course which he will not be able to complete in the time set down in the following schedule:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Number of years in course</th>
<th>Total time allowed from first enrolment to completion (years)</th>

</tbody>
</table>

(iii) No full-time student shall, without showing cause, be permitted to continue a course unless all subjects of the first year of his course are completed by the end of his second year of attendance. No student in the Faculty of Arts shall, without showing cause, be permitted to continue a course unless he completes four subjects, one of which must be from Group VII, by the end of his second year of attendance.*

No part-time student shall, without showing cause, be permitted to continue a course unless all subjects of the first two stages of his course are completed by the end of his fourth year of attendance and all subjects of the third and fourth stages of his course by the end of his seventh year of attendance.

(iv) A student who has a record of failure in a course at another University shall be required to show cause why he should be admitted to this University. A student admitted to a course at this University following a record of failure at another University shall be required to show cause, notwithstanding any other provisions in these rules, why he should be permitted to continue in that course if he is unsuccessful in the annual examinations in his first year of attendance at this University.

(v) Any student excluded under any of the Clauses (i)-(iii) may apply for re-admission after two academic years and such application shall be considered in the light of any evidence submitted by him.

Rule (iii) so far as it relates to students in the Faculty of Arts will apply retrospectively as from 1st January, 1967.
(vi) A student wishing “to show cause” under these provisions shall do so in writing to the Registrar. Any such application shall be considered by the Professorial Board, which shall determine whether the cause shown is adequate to justify his being permitted to continue his course or re-enrol, as the case may be.

(vii) The Vice-Chancellor may on the recommendation of the Professorial Board exclude from attendance in a course or courses any student who has been excluded from attendance in any other course under the rules governing re-enrolment and whose record at the University demonstrates, in the opinion of the Board and the Vice-Chancellor, the student’s lack of fitness to pursue the course nominated.

(viii) A student who has failed, under the provisions of Clause (vi) of these rules, to show cause acceptable to the Professorial Board why he should be permitted to continue in his course, and who has subsequently been permitted to re-enrol in that course or to transfer to another course, shall also be required to show cause, notwithstanding any other provisions in these rules, why he should be permitted to continue in that course if he is unsuccessful in the annual examinations immediately following the first year of resumption or transfer of enrolment as the case may be.

(ix) A student may appeal to an Appeals Committee constituted by Council for this purpose against his exclusion by the Professorial Board from any subject or course.

RE-ADMISSION AFTER EXCLUSION

Applications for re-admission must be made on the standard form and lodged with the Registrar not later than 30th June of the year prior to that for which re-admission is sought. An application should include evidence of appropriate study in the subjects (or equivalents) on account of which the applicant was excluded. In addition, evidence that circumstances which were deemed to operate against satisfactory performance at the time of exclusion are no longer operative or are reduced in intensity should be furnished. An applicant may be required to take the annual examinations in the relevant subjects as qualifying examinations in which case re-admission does not imply exemption from the subject.

Persons who intend applying for re-admission to the University at a future date may seek advice as to ways in which they may enhance their prospects of qualifying for re-admission. Enquiries should be made on a form obtainable from the Examinations Branch, and lodged with the Registrar.

FEES

Fees quoted in this schedule are current at time of publication and may be amended by the Council without notice.

Completion of Enrolment

All students are required to attend the appropriate enrolment centre during the prescribed enrolment period* for authorisation of course programme. Failure to do so will incur a late fee of £1.

First year students (including students repeating first year) must complete enrolment (including fee payment) before they are issued with class timetables or permitted to attend classes. A first year student who has been offered a place in a course to which entry is restricted and fails to complete enrolment (including fee payment) at the appointed time may lose the place allocated.

Fees should be paid during the prescribed enrolment period but will be accepted without incurring a late fee during the first two weeks of first term. (For late fees see below.) No student is regarded as having completed an enrolment until fees have been paid. Fees will not be accepted (i.e., enrolment cannot be completed) after 31st March except with the express approval of the Registrar, which will be given in exceptional circumstances only.

Payment of Fees by Term

Students who are unable to pay their fees by the year may pay by the term, in which case they are required to pay first term course fees and other fees for the year, within the first two weeks of first term. Students paying under this arrangement will receive accounts from the University for Second and Third Term fees. These fees must be paid within the first two weeks of each term.

Assisted Students

Scholarship holders or Sponsored Students who have not received an enrolment voucher or appropriate letter of authority from their sponsor at the time they are enrolling should complete their enrolment paying their own fees. A refund of fees will be made when the enrolment voucher or letter of authority is subsequently lodged with the Cashier.

Extension of Time

Any student who is unable to pay fees by the due date may apply in writing to the Registrar for an extension of time. Such application must give year or stage, whether full-time or part-time and

*The enrolment periods for Sydney students are prescribed annually in the leaflets "Enrolment Procedure for New Students" and "Enrolment Procedure for Students Re-enrolling."
the course in which the applicant wishes to enrol, state clearly and fully the reasons why payment cannot be made and the extension sought, and must be lodged before the date on which a late fee becomes payable. Normally the maximum extension of time for the payment of fees is until 31st March for fees due in first term and for one month from the date on which a late fee becomes payable in Second and Third Terms.

Where an extension of time is granted to a first year student in first term, such student is not permitted to attend classes until fees are paid, and if seeking to enrol in a restricted Faculty may risk losing the place allocated.

Failure to Pay Fees

Any student who is indebted to the University and who fails to make a satisfactory settlement of his indebtedness upon receipt of due notice ceases to be entitled to membership and privileges of the University. Such a student is not permitted to register for a further term, to attend classes or examinations, or to be granted any official credentials.

No student is eligible to attend the annual examinations in any subject where any portion of his course fees for the year is outstanding after the end of the fourth week of Third Term.

In very special cases the Registrar may grant exemption from the disqualification referred to in the two preceding paragraphs upon receipt of a written statement setting out all relevant circumstances.

Fees for Arts Courses

(i) Pass—£36 per annum per subject or £12 per term per subject.
(ii) Distinction Subjects or Honours—an additional £12 per annum per subject in which distinction or honours are taken in student’s second and third years and £48 per subject per annum in the fourth year.
(iii) Students taking subjects at the University of Sydney as part of their regular course are required by that University to pay lecture fees only.
(iv) Thesis Fee—Students who have completed the final examinations but have a thesis still outstanding are required to pay £10 per annum (no term payment).

Fees for Diploma in Sociology Course

(i) (a) Over 6 hours’ and up to 15 hours’ attendance per week—£24 per term.
(b) 6 hours’ or less attendance per week—£12 per term.
(ii) Thesis Fee—Students who have completed the final examinations but have a thesis still outstanding are required to pay £10 per annum (no term payment).

Miscellaneous Subjects

(i) Pass—£36 per annum per subject or £12 per term per subject.
(ii) Distinction Subjects or Honours—an additional £12 per annum per subject in which distinction or honours are taken in students’ second and third years and £48 per subject per annum in the fourth year.
(iii) Distinction section only—£36 per annum per subject or £12 per term per subject.

Other Fees

In addition to the course fees set out above all registered undergraduates will be required to pay—

(i) Matriculation Fee—£3—payable at the beginning of first year.
(ii) Library Fee—annual fee—£5.
(iii) Student Activities Fees
  University Union*—£6—annual subscription.
  Sports Association*—£1—annual subscription.
  Students’ Union*—£2—annual subscription.
  Miscellaneous—£2—annual fee.
  Total—£11.
(iv) Diploma or Graduation Fee—£3—payable at the completion of the course.
(v) Deferred examination—£2 for each subject.
(vi) Examinations conducted under Special Circumstances—£3 for each subject.
(vii) Review of Examination Result—£3 for each subject.
(viii) Chemistry Kit Deposit—£4 per kit. (Up to £3 refundable on return of kit in a satisfactory condition.)
(ix) Excursion Fee—£1 per subject (biology, botany, zoology).

Late Fees

Failure to attend enrolment centre for authorisation of course programme (see above) ........ £1

First Term—

Fees paid from commencement of 3rd week of term to 31st March ........ £3
Fees paid after 31st March where accepted with the express approval of the Registrar (see above) .......... £5

Second and Third Terms—

Fees paid in 3rd and 4th weeks of term ........ £3

*Life members of these bodies are exempt from the appropriate fee or fees.
Fees paid thereafter £5

Late lodgment of Application for Admission to Examinations £2

(Late applications will be accepted for three weeks only after the prescribed dates).

Withdrawal from Course

Students withdrawing from a course are required to notify the Registrar in writing. Fees for the course accrue until a written notification is received.

Where notice of withdrawal from a course is received by the Registrar before the first day of First Term a refund of all fees paid other than the matriculation fee will be made.

Where a student terminates for acceptable reasons a course of study before half a term has elapsed, one half of the term’s fees may be refunded. Where a student terminates a course of study after half a term has elapsed, no refund may be made in respect of that term’s fees.

The Library fee is an annual fee and is not refundable where notice of withdrawal is given after the commencement of First Term.

On notice of withdrawal a partial refund of the Student Activities Fees is made on the following basis:

- University Union—£1 in respect of each half term.
- University of New South Wales Students’ Union—where notice is given prior to the end of the fifth week of First Term £1, thereafter no refund.
- University of New South Wales Sports Association — where notice is given prior to 30th April a full refund is made, thereafter no refund.
- Miscellaneous—where notice is given prior to 30th April £1, thereafter no refund.

LIBRARY SERVICES

The University central library is temporarily located on the fifth floor of the Robert Heffron Chemistry Building at Kensington. A library service is also provided for students in attendance at Broadway through the Sydney Technical College Library, situated at the corner of Mews and Thomas Streets, Broadway.

The main reading room is available for student reading and there is also a serials reading room which is only available for those reading serials. A further reading room for reserve books is on the first floor of the Dalton Chemistry Building, which is adjacent to the Robert Heffron Building.

All students may use both libraries for reference use without any formality. Reserve and ready reference books must be used in the library but most others are available for loan. In order to take books out, however, students must be registered yearly as borrowers at the library reference desk. Separate registration is necessary at Kensington and Broadway as the two libraries are in process of separation. Students will be registered on production of evidence that they have been enrolled for university courses, e.g., University Union Card.

The usual library hours are:
In term Monday to Friday 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.
Saturday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Sunday 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

In vacation See Notice Boards.

THE UNIVERSITY UNION

Warden—A. T. Cuningham, B.Ec.(Syd.)

The University Union, a building of striking circular design, is located near the entrance to the Kensington campus from Anzac Parade. Membership of the Union is compulsory for all registered students of the University and is also open to all members of staff.

The full range of facilities provided by the Union includes a cafeteria service and other dining facilities, a large shopping centre, cloak room, banking and hairdressing facilities, showers, a women’s lounge, common rooms, games rooms, reading rooms, etc.

The constitutional objects of the Union are “to create opportunities to encourage the development of social and intellectual intercourse between members of the Union; to provide premises and other amenities which shall be the common meeting ground and social centre for members of the Union; to provide facilities for the refreshment, entertainment, recreation and convenience of members of the Union; to secure the co-operation of members of the Union in furthering the interests of the University; to generally organise and direct such activities as may be deemed appropriate for giving expression to the interests of members of the Union or for carrying out any of the objects aforesaid.”

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

The Arts Faculty Society

During the past year the Arts Faculty Society, owing to the zeal of the committee members and the enthusiastic support of the majority of Arts students, reached a new high in its level of activity.
At present the aim of the society is to complement the students' academic life by providing many social functions throughout the year. In 1964 the Society ran a number of cocktail parties and also the annual Arts Ball which was probably the best ball of the year. As well as this, the Society encourages and supports the Arts teams in inter-faculty Rugby, basketball and judo. It also arranges two annual cricket matches, one being against the Arts staff and the other against the Commerce Faculty.

Membership of the Society is a must for all new students, and application forms are available during Orientation Week. Any further details may be obtained from the President, Bill Savill, Students' Union Office, 663-3109. Home, 72-5381.

Drama Club

The principal aim of this group is to stage plays and revues. In addition, a programme has been arranged this year of play readings, lectures and discussions, theatre parties and socials, voice and make-up exercises and other workshops. Scope exists for actors, writers, carpenters, poets, electricians and even potential ushers in the Club. Enquiries should be made to the secretary, Mr. T. Gawne at 259-3092.

Historical Society

The Historical Society is a society formed and run by students in cooperation with the School of History. With a programme of public addresses, symposia and films it aims to make History interesting to a wide number, the Society being open to all students and members of staff.

For further information contact the secretary, Miss Deryl Mason, C/- School of History.

The Politics Club

This Club was formed by students in the School of Political Science and is open to all students and other interested parties within the University.

During this year it is hoped that three or four informal dinners will be held with some eminent guest speakers. If there is sufficient interest shown, students will be encouraged to voice their opinion on matters that may be beneficial to all concerned at meetings held between the dinners.

This Club does not align itself with any political party, group or faction, but rather follows the lines of the Non-Conformist Society.

Further information may be obtained from: Steven Klinger, Arts III, 46-2718, 35 Hobart Avenue, Lindfield East; or David Wheen, Arts III, 663-1650, C/- Basser College, Kensington.

Socratic Society

The Society is an independent, non-political, non-religious and non-profitmaking organisation. Its aim is to foster thought and promote discussion on interesting, controversial and intellectually stimulating topics. To achieve this aim, the Society holds regular public meetings, talks, discussion groups and symposia to which speakers of special interest have been invited. Attendance at meetings is voluntary, and membership entails no obligations. Members, however, have the unique opportunity of attending private discussion groups and meetings which are attended by a diversified group. Members of the Society include philosophy lecturers, University chaplains and students from all faculties. In the past a wide range of subjects has been discussed. These have varied from “Euthanasia”, by Mr. Sparkes, to the “White Australia Policy”, by an ex-Premier of New South Wales. Other topics covered have ranged from discussion groups on Robinson’s “Honest to God” to “Why I am a Marxist” by the owner of a downtown bookstore.

Further enquiries concerning meetings, proposed topics and membership may be made by contacting Dr. R. E. Dowling of the School of Philosophy, Don Porritt, 18 Currawong Street, Blakehurst, 54-1556, or Bob Farrell, C/- Department of Pure Mathematics.
Degree of Bachelor of Arts—Requirements

1. The degree of Bachelor of Arts shall be conferred as a degree in General Studies or as a degree in Special Studies or as a degree in Combined Special Studies.

2. Except where special provision is made in the By-laws or by special permission of Faculty, no student may enrol in courses qualifying for a degree in the Faculty of Arts at the same time as he is enrolled for any other degree.

B.A. in General Studies

3. The course of study for the degree of Bachelor of Arts in General Studies shall extend over not fewer than three years for a Pass degree and over not fewer than four years for a degree with Honours. Honours shall be awarded in three classes: Class I; Class II (in two divisions); and Class III.

Pass Degree Requirements

4. Candidates for the Pass degree of Bachelor of Arts in General Studies shall meet the following requirements:

(a) Ten qualifying courses shall be taken and not more than four of these may be taken in any one year.

(b) The ten qualifying courses selected by a candidate shall include:

(i) one subject studied in three consecutive courses and three other subjects each studied in two consecutive courses and one subject studied for a single course;

(ii) two subjects each studied in three consecutive courses and two other subjects each studied in two consecutive courses;

(iii) two subjects each studied in three consecutive courses, one other subject studied in two consecutive courses and two subjects each studied in a single course.

(c) Of the ten qualifying courses, not more than six shall be taken from any one group of the groups specified below. At least two courses shall be taken from Group VII. These shall normally form a sequence, but in exceptional circumstances Faculty may allow a student to take two courses from Group VII which are not consecutive. Not more than four courses from Group VII, and not more than seven courses from Groups VI and VII may be counted towards the degree.*

5. Grouping of courses available in the general degree:

Group I: English and Drama

Group II: Modern Languages

Group III: History and Political Science

Group IV: Social Sciences

Group V: Philosophy

Group VI: Mathematics and Statistics

Group VII: Natural Sciences

(d) Except by special permission of Faculty on the recommendation of the Heads of Schools concerned, a course in Drama can be taken only if English or French or German is studied concurrently at the same level.

*(Candidates who complete Geology I and wish to count that course towards the degree of Bachelor of Arts may not also count, for that purpose, the course in Scientific Thought II. Candidates who take Scientific Thought I and Geology I must also take Geology II (Arts) in order to secure a sequence of two Science subjects.

*Students with a Pass in General Mathematics at Matriculation are very strongly advised against enrolling in Mathematics I.

* Candidates who complete Geology I and wish to count that course towards the degree of Bachelor of Arts may not also count, for that purpose, the course in Scientific Thought II. Candidates who take Scientific Thought I and Geology I must also take Geology II (Arts) in order to secure a sequence of two Science subjects.
Honours Degree Requirements

6. Candidates for the honours degree of Bachelor of Arts in General Studies shall be required to attend qualifying courses in the Faculty for not fewer than four years and must complete their courses within five years; or in such special cases as may be decided by Faculty in six years; except that Faculty may determine by resolution as a measure of equity that this condition shall be relaxed.

7. In order to qualify for admission to the Honours year, candidates shall be required to have met all requirements for the Pass degree, and in the ten qualifying courses thus completed to have obtained Credit or Distinction in at least five of them. Candidates so admitted shall, in the Honours year, attend and complete with Credit or better two further qualifying courses, each such course to be course III of a subject in which courses I and II have already been completed. Students who have met the Pass degree requirements under Clause 4 (b)(iii) are not eligible for a general Honours degree.

8. Candidates for Honours may be required to take both the Pass and Distinction syllabuses in either or both of their honours year qualifying courses. Alternatively, they may be required to take additional studies in fields common to the subjects that will have been taken in three consecutive courses.

9. The grade of Honours awarded to a candidate shall be based upon a consideration of the full record of his studies for the degree. Honours shall not be awarded in particular Schools, but shall be listed as Honours in General Studies.

B.A. in Special Studies (and Combined Special Studies)

10. The courses of study for the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Special Studies shall include nine qualifying courses and shall extend over four years. In exceptional cases Faculty may allow a fifth year for the completion of the Special degree.

11. The degree of Bachelor of Arts in Special Studies may be taken at the Honours level only. Honours shall be awarded in the following classes: Class I; Class II (in two divisions); and Class III.

B.A. in Special Studies

12. Candidates may present themselves in any one of the following subjects: (i) English; (ii) History; (iii) Philosophy; (iv) Scientific Thought; (v) Psychology; (vi) Sociology; (vii) Economics; (viii) Mathematics or Statistics; (ix) Drama; (x) French; (xi) Political Science.

13. Suitable candidates may be admitted to the course for the B.A. in Special Studies in one of the Schools of the Faculty at the beginning of their first year. Except where Faculty, on the recommendation of the Head of the School, may otherwise determine, a candidate shall be required to obtain in his first year Credit or Distinction in the subject or subjects in which he wishes to pursue special studies.

14. Candidates who fail to meet the necessary standards of competence may transfer to the degree in General Studies, and shall then satisfy requirements under Clauses 4 and 5.

15. Suitable candidates may transfer at the beginning of the second year from the course in General Studies to a course for the degree in Special Studies of the Faculty, provided that, except where Faculty on the recommendation of the Head of the School may otherwise determine, the candidate shall have obtained in his first year Credit or Distinction in the subject or subjects in which he wishes to pursue Special Studies.

16. (a) Candidates for a Special Degree of Bachelor of Arts in all Schools of the Faculty save Economics and Drama shall take a Course I of their special subject in the first year, Course II in the second year, Courses IIIA and IIIB in the third year and Course IV in the fourth year. Candidates shall be required to take Courses II, IIIA and IIIB in both Pass and Distinction syllabuses, except where Course IIIB is a Distinction course only, in which case Course IIIB shall be not less in content and require no fewer hours in formal tuition than Course IIIA Pass and IIIA Distinction together.

(b) Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Special Studies in the School of Economics shall take Course I in the first year, Courses II and IIIA in the second year, Course IIIB in the third year and Course IV in the fourth year. Candidates shall be required to take Courses II and IIIA in the Pass and Distinction syllabuses, and Course IIIB will be equivalent in content and hours of formal tuition to the Pass and Distinction elements of Course IIIA together.

(c) Candidates in Drama shall be required to take concurrently the Pass course in English or French or German at the same stage as their Drama courses in their first and second years. Notwithstanding the preceding requirements in this regulation, candidates in Drama in the third year shall take Drama IIIA (Pass and Distinction) and Drama IIIB (Distinction only) together with English IIIA (Pass). Drama IIIB (Distinction) shall be so designed as to ensure that Drama IIIB (Distinction) and English IIIA (Pass) together shall not be less in content and require no fewer hours in formal tuition than Drama IIIA (Pass and Distinction).

17. Except where Faculty, on the recommendation of the Head of the School, may otherwise determine, candidates for Honours must obtain a grade of Credit or Distinction in their special subject in all years.
18. Except where Faculty, on the recommendation of the Head of the School may otherwise determine, in their first and second years (in the case of Economics students, in their first and third years) candidates shall be required to do four additional subsidiary courses. These courses may comprise two consecutive courses in each of two subjects, or two consecutive courses in one subject and two single courses. Unless Faculty otherwise determines, at least two of the courses shall be from Group VII. In exceptional circumstances, Faculty may allow a student to take two courses from Group VII which are not consecutive. The subsidiary courses studied (other than those from Group VII) shall be open to prescription by the Head of the School in which the degree in Special Studies is taken.

19. On the recommendation of the Examinations Committee, the Faculty may recommend the award of the general B.A. degree to students who have completed at least eight courses in accordance with the regulations for the B.A. degree in Special Studies and have obtained Credit or Distinction in at least two of them beyond the first year level. Alternatively, Faculty may recommend to the Professorial Board the completion of an additional course or courses before the award of the general B.A. degree.

B.A. in Combined Special Studies

20. Candidates may present themselves in combinations of two subjects of study, provided that the combinations proposed by candidates are approved by the Heads of Schools concerned. Candidates deemed suitable at the end of the first year will be formally admitted as students in Combined Special Studies.

21. Candidates thus admitted shall be required to take nine courses including three consecutive courses of one of their special subjects of study, three consecutive courses of the other special subject of study, and a combined Course IV comprising studies jointly prescribed by the Heads of the two Schools concerned.

Courses II and IIIA shall be taken in both Pass and Distinction syllabuses. Where a Course IIIB involves a Pass as well as a Distinction component, that course may, with the permission of the Head of the School, be substituted for Course IIIA. Where one of the two special subjects is Economics, Courses II and IIIA Economics shall be taken in second year together with Course II of the other special subject, and Course IIIA or, if appropriate, Course IIIB of the latter subject shall be taken in third year.

In addition to these seven courses, candidates except those taking Scientific Thought as one of their special studies shall be required to take consecutive courses in either Scientific Thought or some other subject from the Natural Sciences group. In exceptional circumstances, Faculty may allow a student to take two courses from Group VII which are not consecutive or one subject from Group VII only.

22. Candidates who fail to meet the necessary standards of competence may transfer to the degree in General Studies, and shall then satisfy requirements under Clauses 4 and 5.

23. Except where Faculty, on the recommendation of the Head of the School, may otherwise determine, candidates for Honours must obtain in their special subjects a grade of Credit or Distinction in all years. Honours shall be listed as Honours in Combined Special Studies.

24. On the recommendation of the Examinations Committee, the Faculty may recommend the award of the general B.A. degree to students who have completed at least eight courses in accordance with the regulations for the B.A. degree in Special Studies and have obtained Credit or Distinction in at least two of them beyond the first year level. Alternatively, Faculty may recommend to the Professorial Board the completion of an additional course or courses before the award of the general B.A. degree.

Admission with Advanced Standing

25. (a) Graduates of another Faculty of this University may be admitted with Advanced Standing in the Faculty of Arts, with credit for not more than four recognised Arts courses already completed in the other Faculty in this University.

(b) Graduates of other Universities in Faculties other than Arts may be admitted with Advanced Standing in the Faculty of Arts, with credit for not more than three recognised Arts courses already completed at that other University, not including a Course III.

(c) Students transferring from the Faculty of Arts in other Universities may be admitted with Advanced Standing, with credit for not more than four courses completed at that University, not including a Course III.

(d) Under special circumstances credit towards an Arts degree may be given for not more than two appropriate Arts subjects at the level of Course I, taken at another University and not included in the Arts curriculum of the University of New South Wales.

26. Where application is made for admission with Advanced Standing under Regulation 25, special consideration may be given by Faculty to (i) graduates in other Faculties of this University who have an Honours degree (or a degree with Honours) and to (ii) students who wish to take a degree with Honours in the Faculty of Arts.
Courses Available for Degree of Bachelor of Arts

The following is a complete list of subjects which may be taken in accordance with the regulations set out above for the award of the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The hours are for formal course work in each subject. However, additional time is devoted to tutorials or seminars in some subjects, particularly at the distinction level. The distinction syllabus incorporates the equivalent pass syllabus plus additional work. The hours shown for distinction subjects are for the combined pass and distinction syllabus.

Faculty Requirements

Attendance at Lectures

Undergraduates reading for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts must attend the prescribed lectures in each subject of their course. Applications for exemption from attendance or for leave of absence should be made to the Registrar on forms obtained from and lodged at the Admissions Office.

In view of the fact that there are maximum time limits on certain courses it is imperative that students absent for extended periods should secure formal leave.

Essays and Assignments

From time to time students are required to submit essays and exercises. All written work must be submitted as required and the standard of the written work submitted will be taken into account in assessing students' results.

Admission to the Annual Examination

Students who fail to maintain a satisfactory record of attendance at lectures and tutorial classes or to submit written work when called upon to do so may be excluded from the Annual Examination.

Admission to Honours School

Students who wish to read for Honours must apply to the Head of the School in which they are specialising at the end of the first year of full-time study.

Students who fail to make application at the appropriate date but nevertheless wish to read for Honours should apply to the Head of the School concerned. In exceptional cases Faculty is prepared to admit such students to the appropriate Honours School.

Rules for Progression

Certain subjects must be passed as a prerequisite for taking others. Students should enquire from the Heads of Schools before planning their programmes.

Higher Degrees

The degrees of Master of Arts, Master of Librarianship and Doctor of Philosophy are awarded in the Faculty of Arts. The conditions governing the award of these degrees are published in the University Calendar.
Courses of Study for Bachelor of Arts Degree

The following table sets out those subjects which may be taken for the award of the B.A. degree in accordance with the regulations governing the award of the degree set out earlier. The subjects are here arranged in the groups by which they are classified in Paragraph 5 of the B.A. Regulations.

DRAMA

Drama courses offered within the Faculty of Arts are not intended to equip a student for the profession of theatre. The National Institute of Dramatic Art, now established in the University, is concerned with vocational training and the practice of the theatre arts. The Department of Drama is concerned rather with liberal education and an evaluation of those arts. At the same time the Institute will serve as a workshop or laboratory for the practical work which will supplement the lectures offered by the Drama Department.

57.211 DRAMA I

This is a general survey in ninety lectures of the chief pieces of dramatic literature from Aeschylus and Sophocles to the dramatists of the twentieth century. The course is designed on the one hand as a general introduction to all other drama courses, and on the other hand as a study of world drama for students who do not plan to take further drama courses. There are also thirty additional laboratory classes on practical theatre problems.

Text Books
Aeschylus: Agamemnon.
Sophocles: Oedipus the King.
Euripides: The Trojan Women.
Aristophanes: The Frogs.
Terence: The Brothers.
Kalidasa: Shakuntala.
Kwanami: Sotoba Komachi.
Shakespeare: Hamlet.
De Vega: Fuente Ovejuna.
Molière: The Misanthrope.
Racine: Phèdre.
Goethe: Faust.
Gogol: The Inspector.
Turgenev: A Month in this Country.

All the above plays are contained in The Treasury of the Theatre, ed. Gassner (Simon and Schuster).

57.212 DRAMA II

Ninety lectures. The period covered in this course begins with classical Greece and ends with Elizabethan England. Here the subject matter is more specialized than in Drama I; as much attention is paid to theatrical history as to drama. Thus theatre architecture, costumes, scenery, and acting — much of this from pictorial sources — are studied along with the dramas.
Text Books

Homer: The Iliad.

Aeschylus: Prometheus Bound.

Sophocles: Philoctetes.

Sophocles: Theban Plays.

Euripides: Hippolytus.

Also prescribed plays by the following authors: Rostand, Hauptmann, Wedekind, Tolstoy, Chekov, Gorki, O'Neill, Strindberg, Ibsen and Brecht.

57.222 DRAMA II (DISTINCTION)

Sixty lectures. This course is concerned with tragedy, its theoreticians and critics. The course is divided roughly into two parts: classical and modern tragedy. In the first part the principal tragedies of Aeschylus, Sophocles, and Euripides are studied along with Aristofanes, Horace, Scaliger, Castelvetro, Corneille, Lessing, and other critics and theoreticians of classical tragedy. In the second half of the course Shakespeare’s four great tragedies — Lear, Hamlet, Macbeth, and Othello — are studied in conjunction with his principal critics, from the seventeenth to the twentieth centuries.

44

57.223 DRAMA IIIA (DISTINCTION)

This course of thirty lectures is concerned with the techniques of comic writing and with the sources of humour. The devices of situation and character which have been employed for comic effect from the time of Aristophanes to that of Coward are studied with reference both to classical comedies and to the perennial theatre which lacks a literature but which has provided the staple diet of entertainment in all periods of history.

57.213 DRAMA III

This course of 90 lectures follows the pattern of Drama II and is a sequel to it. Generally, the course covers the period from the Italian Renaissance to the twentieth century. The principal subjects are the French drama of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, the English Restoration drama, the Commedia dell’Arte and the Italian theatre, the Russian drama from Fonvizin to Gorki and the German drama of Goethe, Schiller and Kleist.

Text Books

Noyes (ed.): Masterpieces of the Russian Drama (Dover).

57.233 DRAMA IIIB (DISTINCTION)
This is a course consisting of thirty lectures on eighteenth and nineteenth century English Shakespearean production. The main Shakespearean producers — Garrick, Kean, Phelps, Macready, and Irving — will be studied along with the minor producers. Their methods of production, their treatment of the Shakespearean texts, and their use of scenery will be in the province of the course.

57.224 DRAMA IV
This course is intended for the serious student of theatrical history who plans to study for an advanced degree. Students in Drama IV will work under guidance on special problems in theatrical and dramatic history. Textual criticism, bibliographical methods, and research on original documents will be the main concerns of this course. The students will be required to write a thesis and will be encouraged to undertake a theme concerned with Australian theatre history.

WESTERN EUROPEAN LANGUAGES
FRENCH

Courses offered by the Department will cover language, literature and culture.

The cultural component of the syllabus is designed to encourage students to look at French civilisation as a whole. They will study the broad outlines of the political and social history of France from the sixteenth century to the present day, following the development of her institutions and traditions. As an integral part of this perspective, they will also study, alongside the great works of French literature, outstanding achievements in other fields, notably painting, music and architecture. The Department is making extensive use of audio-visual aids for this purpose.

Throughout the course, particular stress will be placed not only on the aesthetic qualities of French culture, but also on its intellectual content. Lectures will be given on the major contributions which the French have made to political theory, philosophy, ethics and psychology. Students' attention will constantly be drawn to the wealth of ideas to be found in French literature, and they will be asked to express their opinions on the value of these ideas and their relevance to present-day problems. The French preoccupation with moral issues and with the analysis of human relationships, both personal and social, will receive special attention. At the same time, important literary works will be studied in depth, with a view to investigating purely aesthetic problems and the workings of the creative imagination.

A feature of the syllabus will be a compulsory course for final year students on the problems and achievements of modern France. The main aim of this course is to ensure that students leave the University with an awareness of the new and crucial role which France is playing in the contemporary world, not only culturally but also politically and economically.

In the teaching of the language itself, the main stress will be laid on developing students' ability to understand and speak French with the greatest possible degree of proficiency. With this aim in view many of the lectures and tutorials will be conducted in French. Although formal written work will continue to occupy a central place in the syllabus, it will be supplemented by extensive periods of oral practice, much of which will be carried out in the language laboratory. A stereo room will also be available for listening to performances of French plays, both classical and modern, and a wide variety of prose and poetry readings.

It is strongly recommended that students intending to take French should have an "A" level pass in the Leaving Certificate, or in an equivalent examination.
56.111 FRENCH I

A course of 120 hours of lectures and tutorials and 30 hours of laboratory practice.

(a) The French Language

This part of the course will consist principally of tutorials designed to develop a feeling for the basic grammatical and syntactical patterns of French, and for the sound of the spoken language. Oral work will predominate, and will include regular sessions in the language laboratory. Students will be required to write short weekly essays in French, designed to develop their ability to express themselves freely in a foreign language.

Text Books
Harrap's Standard French and English Dictionary (2 vols.).
[Otherwise Harrap's Shorter French and English Dictionary.]

Reference Books
(Recommended for purchase if possible)

(b) The Civilisation of the Seventeenth Century.

This course is intended to introduce students to the culture of France through a study of one of the greatest periods of her social and intellectual history.

Text Book

(c) An Introduction to French Literature.

A study of representative writers from the seventeenth century to the present day.

Text Books
La Fontaine: Fables (Classiques Garnier).
Molière: Théâtre choisi (Classiques Garnier).
La Fayette, Mme de: Romans et Nouvelles (Classiques Garnier).
Voltaire: Romans et Contes (Classiques Garnier).
Camus: L'Etranger (Gallimard).
Camus: La Peste (Gallimard).

56.112 FRENCH II

A course of 120 hours of lectures and tutorials and 30 hours of laboratory practice.

(a) Language

This part of the course will include detailed structural analysis of French, and study of specific passages from a linguistic and stylistic point of view. Students will be required to write regular essays in French on prescribed topics. The course will also include some discussion of the nature and function of language.

Text and Reference Books
As for French I.

(b) The Civilisation of the Eighteenth and Early Nineteenth Centuries

Subjects for study will include the social and political thought of the eighteenth century "philosophes," the reign of rationalism, and the birth of the romantic movement in literature and the arts.

Text Books

(c) Authors for special study.

Text Books
Voltaire: Romains et Contes (Classiques Garnier).
Voltaire: Lettres Philosophiques (Classiques Garnier).
Voltaire: Dictionnaire philosophique (Classiques Garnier).
Rousseau: Confessions (3 vols.) (Classiques Garnier).
Rousseau: Réveries du promeneur solitaire (Classiques Garnier).

Stendhal: La Chartreuse de Parme (Classiques Garnier).
Camus: L'Etranger (Gallimard).
Camus: La Peste (Gallimard).

56.122 FRENCH II (Distinction)

This course will consist of the subjects covered in the pass course, together with an intensive study (two hours per week) of the poetry and prose of Nerval and the novels of Balzac and Flaubert. Students will participate in seminars on these writers, and will present for class discussion short papers on aspects of their work.

Text and Reference Books
As for French II.

GERMAN
(Offered by the Department of German, University of Sydney)

ELEMENTARY GERMAN
This course, which presupposes no knowledge of German, is available to two types of students: (a) to those who wish to proceed to the regular courses in German; (b) to those students of the Faculty of Arts who desire a reading knowledge of the language in order to gain access to material written in German in the fields of history, geography, philosophy, psychology, education, music, etc.
For type (a) four lectures with an additional oral hour in small groups per week are prescribed; for type (b) two of these meetings may be omitted. The full course is open, except with special permission of the Faculty, only to students of the Faculty of Arts who have obtained a pass in a foreign language at the Leaving Certificate or an equivalent examination. In order to qualify for admission to German I, students must pass an examination held at the end of the year 1964 and a written qualifying test on prescribed vacation work, held at the beginning of Lent Term in the following year 1965. Class exercises and the reading of graded texts must meet requirements before the first examination. When followed by German I and II the full course in Elementary German will count as a qualifying course for the degree of B.A., Pass or Honours.
There is no evening course in Elementary German.
Details of the course, together with a list of text books, may be obtained from the School of Western European Languages.

GERMAN I
(Day and Evening)

Preliminary Requirements — Pass in Leaving Certificate or Matriculation in German, or pass in Elementary German, or equivalent. Students should consult the Head of the Department in doubtful cases.
Details of the course, together with a list of text books, may be obtained from the School of Western European Languages.

GERMAN II
(Day and Evening)
Details of the course, together with a list of text books, may be obtained from the School of Western European Languages.

GERMAN II (Distinction)
Details of the course, together with a list of text books, may be obtained from the School of Western European Languages.

GERMAN III (Day and Evening)
Details of the course, together with a list of text books, may be obtained from the School of Western European Languages.

ITALIAN II
Details of these courses may be obtained from the School of Western European Languages.
HISTORY

General

It is the general purpose of the courses taught within the School to induce an understanding of the modern world in terms of historical change and development. Nevertheless, students will be encouraged to consider human responses to historical environments in the light of antecedents rather than consequences. While courses are planned to include the categories of social, political, institutional and economic history, they are also directed towards determining the relationship between these fields in terms of culture, thought and opinion, so that the student may develop an integral understanding of each successive period with which he may be concerned. An ability to read a foreign language is regarded as a useful asset, though not as an essential prerequisite to the subject.

Courses planned by the School of History provide a broad outline of European, British and Colonial history from about 1494 to recent times. The basic structure of pass and distinction courses will follow these three topics in three successive phases in History I, II, III. More specialized courses will be available within this framework for distinction candidates. A second Stage III course, concerned with problems in Australian history, is available to distinction students only. At Stage IV History candidates for the B.A. degree in Special Studies are offered courses in the History of Historiography, British Constitutional History (Late Medieval and Tudor), the History of Political Thought, Modern Russian and American History, African History and problems in Medieval European History. In addition to studying these three topics, Distinction students in their final year are required to undertake a limited research project.

A course in Australian Studies, provided by the School of History in cooperation with other Schools, is offered to students who have successfully completed one year in the Faculty. This course is a separate unit in the degree and may not be taken as a substitute for the general courses in History specified as prerequisites for advancement to higher stages of the subject. The course is cast in an historical framework but is cross-disciplinary in character, and involves study of Australian society and culture.

51.111 HISTORY I

A course of 90 hours, comprising lectures and tutorials. Three broad topics will be covered, one in each term.

Part (a)—European History 1494-1660

The course will be concerned with the Renaissance, the Reformation, the emergence of national states, the price revolution, the Wars of Religion, the Thirty Years War, and the rise and decline of Spain.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

Courses in the School of Political Science are concerned with the study of political ideas, institutions and activity in such a way as to encourage a critical understanding of the problems and processes of government and politics in different societies and at different times, and of some of the main themes that have been developed to account for, and sometimes to advocate, these governmental forms and actions.

54.111 POLITICAL SCIENCE I

A course of 90 hours (70 lectures; 20 tutorials)

Introductory lectures in the first few weeks are intended to give students some idea of the range and variety of political studies. Thereafter for two terms, lectures and tutorials are concerned with an enquiry into the nature of politics and of some important questions in this field, and also with analysis of the institutions and processes of different systems of government, using Australia as a major example. In the third term several special topics arising from the more general study in terms 1 and 2 are dealt with in groups of three lectures each. Regular tutorial work is required for at least two terms.

54.113 POLITICAL SCIENCE III (A)

A course of 90 hours of lectures and tutorials.

1. The Politics of Developing Societies (30 hours):

This part of the course begins by giving new theoretical bearings for understanding the politics of underdevelopment and of industrialisation. It then turns to a study of the impact upon the politics and government of developing nations of social divisions in traditional agrarian societies, the role of the intellectuals, nationalism, anti-colonialism and communism. There will be a special "case study" of one political system not hitherto examined, probably in South-East Asia.

Students should consult the School of Political Science for further required and recommended reading.

ECONOMICS

15.101 ECONOMICS I
Three hours per week including tutorial classes

This subject provides an introduction to economic analysis. It begins with a general account of the major problems of economics and a short account of the methods of economic analysis. It then deals with two major fields of economic analysis. In one it reviews national income accounting concepts and the theory of income determination. In this section attention is given to the operation of the monetary system, the problems arising out of economic fluctuations, and the problem of overall economic policy. The other section of the subject provides an analysis of the pricing of individual products and services.

Preliminary Reading

Text Books

Reference Books
Australian National Accounts, latest issue, Commonwealth Statistician.
15.102 ECONOMICS II

Three hours per week including tutorial classes

This subject is concerned with micro-economics. It begins with an account of the theories of demand and production and then turns to an examination of pricing policies in different market situations. The subject will include a critical review of some of the empirical studies of pricing policy as well as the theoretical literature in the field.

Text Books

- 15.281 Labour Economics
- 15.301 Comparative Economic Systems
- 15.431 Econometrics
- 15.711 Mathematical Economics I
- 15.712 Mathematical Economics II

Descriptions of the content of these subjects and lists of text and reference books for 1965 are given in the Faculty of Commerce Handbook. Students should also note that not all these subjects are necessarily made available each year, and that further enquiries should be made to the School.

15.104 ECONOMICS IV

The syllabus for this subject is identical with that of 15.104 Advanced Economic Analysis for Commerce students. The reading matter will consist mainly of articles published in learned journals. Further particulars will be given to students by the lecturers concerned.

PSYCHOLOGY

12.011 PSYCHOLOGY I

A course of 90 hours’ lectures and 60 hours’ laboratory work.

The course treats the subject matter and methods of psychology, the biological and social determinants of behaviour, the basic processes of personality development, motivation, perception, thinking, learning, individual differences in ability patterns, the organizing of behaviour in the developing individual, and adjustment.

Emphasis throughout the course is placed on scientific appraisal of human behaviour. Hypotheses and experimental and other evidence are examined for their scientific validity.

The practical course reinforces some of the matter of theory lectures by way of group experiments and demonstrations, and provides some experience in methods of psychological observation and statistical procedures appropriate to them.

Candidates for honours should consult the Head of the School of Applied Psychology for a determination of course requirements.
Sociology

53.111 Sociology I

A course of 90 hours per year (three per week).
The course is concerned with the study of the nature of human society and the fact that the way men behave is determined largely by their membership in groups and by the way the members of the groups react to each other.

Approximately sixty hours will be concerned with the nature and structure of society (Section A below) and approximately thirty hours with the research methods of the sociologist.

Section A: The Nature of Society

Section B: Research Methods

A consideration of the methods of studying human relations, together with an introduction to social statistics.

Text Books

53.112 Sociology II

This course will be centred on a study of the community, with particular emphasis on the nature of institutions and their functions in the community, as well as a consideration of the socialization process related to group membership and social change in the community.
The course of 90 hours (three per week) is divided as follows:

Section A: Personality, Culture, Socialization

This section will cover a detailed examination of the relation between personality and culture and the processes of socialization; at the same time the place of small groups in personality and social change will be studied with particular reference to the results of experimental work in this field.

Section B: Institutions

A general definition and classification of institutions will be followed by a study of the processes by which a social organisation becomes institutionalized, together with an examination of the social functions performed by institutions. The sociology of the family, science, industry, education and religion will be studied as examples of institutional behaviour.

Section C: Community Structure and Social Change

The whole community will then be studied in terms of its elements, such as informal and formal groups, family-community relations, religion and the community, political and economic institutions, school-community relations, and industry. Such dimensions of community as the age-structure, social stratification, and the value system, will be considered before studying the nature and forms of social change.

Section D: Social Statistics

This section will deal with methods of sociological research and the application of statistical inference to sociological data.

Text Books

Reference Books

Feibleman: The Institutions of Society.

53.122 Sociology II (Distinction)

This course consists of an intensive study of one aspect of the pass course (60 hours). Recommended reading will be prescribed during the course.

53.113 Sociology IIIA

A course of 90 hours concerned with sociological theory, supplemented by advanced work in sociological methods.

Section A:

The main stream of sociological theory will be considered, followed by the examination of some continuing issues in sociological theory:

(a) France: Emile Durkheim.
(b) Germany: Max Weber, Georg Simmel.
(c) Italy: Pareto.
(d) America: Cooley, Dewey, Summer, Mead, Thomas, Park.
(e) Britain: Radcliffe Brown, Malinowski.

Section B:

This section will cover in detail methods of research design, measurements, analysis, interpretation, and advanced statistical methods applicable to such research.

52.111 PHILOSOPHY I

Three hours of lectures weekly, together with tutorials as arranged. The course falls into three sections:

Section A:
A general introduction to Philosophy: an outline of the aims and methods of Philosophy, and of the traditional and modern approaches to the study of logic, of "value" terms as met in ethics and aesthetics, and the sources of our knowledge.

Section B:
A study of some of Plato's Dialogues, in particular the Meno, the Protagoras, and parts of the Republic.

Section C:
A study of a major work from the formative period of modern philosophy. Descartes's Discourse on Method will be examined in detail, reference being made to such other philosophers as facilitate the understanding of Descartes' problems.

Willey, B.: The Seventeenth Century Background (Chatto and Windus).
O'Connor, D. J.: John Locke (Pelican).
Gibson, J.: Locke's Theory of Knowledge and its Historical Relations (Cambridge).

The course will consist of two parts:
A. Seminars in both (i) advanced sociological theory, and (ii) advanced sociological research methods.
B. A research thesis carried out under close supervision and embodying original research of an empirical or critical nature.

Recommended reading will be prescribed during the course.
52.112 PHILOSOPHY II (PASS)

Three hours of lectures weekly, together with tutorials as arranged. The course falls into three sections of approximately equal content. Sections A and B are common for all students. Under Section C the student selects one of two options.

Section A: The development of the British empiricist tradition; in particular, the work of the eighteenth-century philosophers, Berkeley and Hume, and the present-day work of A. J. Ayer.

Section B: A course in formal logic, building on the foundations laid in the first year course. Attention will be given to the bearings of formal logic on some traditional philosophical problems.

Section C, Option I: Greek philosophy. A study of the principal issues in the work of the Greek philosophers from Thales to Aristotle.

Section C, Option II: The nature of empirical knowledge. The criteria of truth of empirical statements, with special reference to Logical Positivism and the work of Karl Popper; counterfactual statements; the logic of statements describing scientific laws; the paradoxes of confirmation.

Burnet, J.: Greek Philosophy, Thales to Plato (Macmillan).
Cherniss, H.: Aristotle's Criticism of Plato and the Academy (Johns Hopkins Press).

52.122 PHILOSOPHY II (DISTINCTION)

The course consists of the material set out for the course 52.112 Philosophy II (Pass), both options of Section C being taken. In addition a series of seminars will be arranged in which certain topics will be treated at a more advanced level.

52.113 PHILOSOPHY IIIA (PASS)

Two of the following options are to be selected; students should consult the Head of the School of Philosophy in connection with their choice. Two hours per week will be devoted to each option.

Option II: The modern Analytic movement in Britain and Vienna. A study of the "logical atomism" of Russell and Wittgenstein, the "logical positivism" of the Vienna Circle, and Wittgenstein's later work.
Option III: The philosophy of politics and of social theory. A study of (a) Natural Law theory, with special reference to Aquinas; (b) Social Contract theory, with special reference to Rousseau; (c) Conservatism, with special reference to Burke, Oakeshott, and Bosanquet.
Option IV: The foundations of mathematics. Some knowledge of and ability in mathematics are required for this course, which is concerned with the work of the principal philosophers of mathematics since Frege.
Option V: The philosophies of Leibniz and Spinoza.

52.123 PHILOSOPHY IIIA (DISTINCTION)

Two options from the list given under 52.113 Philosophy IIA (Pass) are to be taken, together with 60 hours of work on one of the following options:

Option I: The philosophy of Kant. The course will be devoted chiefly to a consideration of Kant’s metaphysics and epistemology.

Option II: An introduction to the philosophy of science. The course will isolate some of the chief philosophical issues raised by accounts given, from time to time, of the methods of scientific inquiry.

Option III: Philosophical Psychology. A course concerned with the “Theory of Knowledge”; including some treatment of sensation and perception, and of our knowledge of our own and other minds.

Text Books

Option II:

Option III:
Wisdom, J.: Other Minds (Blackwell).

52.133 PHILOSOPHY III B (DISTINCTION)

Students taking the Special (Honours) degree in Philosophy will take this subject in addition to 52.123 Philosophy IIIA (Distinction). The course consists of a further two of the options listed under 52.113 Philosophy IIIA, and a further one of the options listed under 52.123 Philosophy IIIA (Distinction).

The text and reference books for this subject are the same as those listed under the several options of 52.113 and 52.123.
52.114 PHILOSOPHY IV (HONOURS)

Each student is required to complete a research thesis on a subject of his choice to be approved by the School, and in addition will be required to take two seminar courses. In 1964, the following courses are offered:

1. The logic of discourse.
   Topics include:
   (a) Modern analyses of the traditional concepts of “meaning”, “proposition”, “analytic” (Wisdom, Austin, Quine, Ryle, Black);
   (b) The traditional concept of “Fallacy”;
   (c) Paradoxes of discourse; the generalised “liar” paradox and variants involving “meaning” and other logical concepts, and ethical concepts; the “faith-reason” paradox;
   (d) Attempts to formalise these problems;
   (e) Philosophical perplexity (Wittgenstein, Wisdom);
   (f) Explanation; “If, so and because”; counterfactuals (Ryle, Goodman, Austin, Toulmin).

2. Absolute Idealism.
   Study of the works of F. H. Bradley (excluding ethical writings). References to Hegel and other Idealists will be subsidiary to the understanding of Bradley himself. The two main themes will be concrete universality and internal relations, leading to extensive consideration of Bradley’s concept of “inference” and The Absolute.

3. Topics in the Philosophy of Mind.
   A course concerned with what is traditionally known as the “Body-Mind Problem”, taking the form of a detailed examination of such notions as: The Will, Emotion, Sensation and Perception, Imagination and Thought. Particular attention will be given to contemporary work.

4. Theories of Truth.
   (a) Discussion of three classical theories of truth: Pragmatism, correspondence theory, coherence theory;
   (b) Discussion of some contemporary theories, viz. those of Ayer, Quine, Tarski, Strawson;
   (c) Consideration of questions associated with theories of truth:
      (i) status of “propositions” in “statements”;
      (ii) relation between “true” and “meaningful”;
      (iii) kinds of truth — logical, empirical, religious, metaphysical;
      (iv) “true” and “The Truth”.

Reading lists will be prepared in the School for each student taking this course.

Webster, A. C.: Partial Differential Equations in Mathematical Physics (Dover).

10.213 PURE MATHEMATICS IV

A course of 8 lectures per week with supplementary reading, thesis and essay work for students reading for honours in Pure Mathematics, on topics selected from the following—analysis, functional analysis, integral transforms, number theory, differential and algebraic geometry, topology general and combinatorial, algebra, differential equations, group representation theory and stochastic processes.

10.211 APPLIED MATHEMATICS II

Three one-hour lectures and four tutorial and practice hours per week.

Dynamics of a particle and of a rigid body.

Vector analysis, including Gauss', Green's and Stoke's theorems.

Computational techniques (both for desk and high speed computers).

Text Books

Halmos, P. R.: Finite Dimensional Vector Spaces (Van Nostrand).

10.221 APPLIED MATHEMATICS II (HIGHER)

Four one-hour lectures and three tutorial and practice hours per week.

As for Applied Mathematics II but treated in greater depth and including Maxwell's equations and electro-magnetic waves.

Text Books

Halmos, P. R.: Finite Dimensional Vector Spaces (Van Nostrand).

10.212 APPLIED MATHEMATICS III

A course of 90 hours of lectures and 120 hours of tutorials. Further work on mathematical methods, numerical analysis and computational methods.

Text Books

Faddeeva, V. N.: Computational Methods of Linear Algebra (Dover).

Reference Books

Wax, N.: Selected Papers on Noise and Stochastic Processes (Dover).

10.222 APPLIED MATHEMATICS III (HIGHER)

A course of 150 hours of lectures and 90 hours of tutorials.

As for Applied Mathematics III but including special theory of relativity and statistical mechanics.

STATISTICS

Students majoring in Theory of Statistics select Mathematics and Statistics courses in accordance with the table set out on page 87.

10.311 THEORY OF STATISTICS I

Four one-hour lectures and three tutorial and practice hours per week.

Probability (elementary set algebra).

Variates (univariates, multivariates, expectations, moment generating and characteristic functions). Standard distributions. Sampling distributions. Point estimation (moments, maximum likelihood, minimum $\bar{X}_2$, etc.)

Confidence interval estimation, exact and approximate. Elementary Neyman-Pearson theory of tests of significance, standard significance tests. Regression (including curvilinear) on a single fixed variable.

Introductory Reading
Huff, D.: How to Lie with Statistics (Gollancz).

Text Books
Statistical Tables (New South Wales University Press).

Reference Books

10.321 THEORY OF STATISTICS I (HIGHER)

The work of this subject will be similar to 10.311 but will be at greater depth and cover a slightly wider field. Approximately one hour extra per week will be devoted to the additional work.

Introductory Reading, Text and Reference Books
As for 10.311 Theory of Statistics I.

10.312 THEORY OF STATISTICS II

A course of 120 hours of lectures and 120 hours of practice classes.

The multivariate normal distribution. Analysis of variance: random, fixed and mixed models, with powers; randomisation tests. Stochastic processes. Contingency tables. Introduction to high speed computers (in particular, UTECOM). A special project on a selected topic. A selection of topics from: Sequential analysis; theory of sampling; distribution free methods; bioassay; linear programming; response surfaces; discriminant functions; theory of games; experimental design.

Introductory Reading

Text Books

Reference Books
Kempthorne, O.: The Design and Analysis of Experiment (Wiley).

10.322 THEORY OF STATISTICS II (HIGHER)

A course of 150 hours of lectures and 120 hours of practice classes.

The treatment in this subject will be at greater depth and cover a somewhat wider field than 10.312 Theory of Statistics II.

Introductory Reading, Text and Reference Books
As for 10.312 Theory of Statistics II.

10.323 THEORY OF STATISTICS III

This course consists of specialised study of topics set out below, for students attempting honours in the Science or Arts courses with a major in Statistics.

Text Books

As for 10.322.

Reference Books

SCIENTIFIC THOUGHT

52.151 SCIENTIFIC THOUGHT I

Three hours weekly, throughout the year, of lectures and demonstrations, with tutorials and excursions. An account of the development of astronomy from its beginnings in Babylonia and Greece up to the early 18th century.

The historical material will be prefaced by some treatment of the observational material around which the early speculations were woven, and will be presented along with a brief account of the philosophical developments (especially in Greece) that influenced the shaping of scientific astronomy. There will be some account also, in the later parts of the course, of the philosophical and cultural aspects of the Copernican revolution, and of its bearings on modern physical science generally.

Preliminary Reading

Campbell, N. R.: What is Science? (Dover).

Toulmin, S. E.: The Philosophy of Science (Hutchinson).

Text Books

Reference Books

Crombie, A. C.: Augustine to Galileo (Falcon, also Mercury).

Dreyer, J. L. E.: History of Astronomy (Dover).

Hoyle, F.: Astronomy (Doubleday) (Strongly recommended).

Koestler, A.: The Sleepwalkers (Hutchinson).
Section B

The Origins of Geology. The course begins with a brief consideration of the main ideas about the earth and about minerals in antiquity and in medieval times, but is mainly devoted to the modern period, beginning in about the middle of the eighteenth century and ending at about the middle of the nineteenth century, when geology first emerged as a coherent and independent science. Particular attention will be paid to the impact of geology on social and religious opinion and its relation to the Darwinian revolution in biology.

Text Books

Section A
Conant, J. B.: On Understanding Science (Mentor).

Section B
Pearl R. M.: Geology: An Introduction to the Principles of Physical Geology (Barnes and Noble).

Reference Books

Section A
Leicester, H. M.: The Historical Background of Chemistry (Wiley).

Section B
Greene, J. C.: The Death of Adam (Iowa State U.P.).

52.153 SCIENTIFIC THOUGHT III

Each member of the class will take two of the following options; each option occupies 3 hours weekly over 15 weeks. Some of the options will be available only in the first half of the year; some will be available only in the second half of the year. Each student's choice of two options must be approved by the Head of the School of Philosophy. The School of Philosophy reserves the right to withdraw any option selected by an insufficient number of students.
Option I

Egyptian and Babylonian mathematics, with special attention to the methodology and techniques both of the ancient mathematicians and of modern students of their work. The course is based largely on original source material.

Option II

The establishing of modern chemistry. The course is a development of the course on the origins of modern chemistry that form part of 52.152 Scientific Thought II. It deals with the growth of chemical thought in the period 1800-1860, with special emphasis on:

(a) the continuing influence of the pre-Socratic philosophers;
(b) the positivist reaction against "metaphysics";
(c) the rapid accumulation of experimental results;
(d) the successes of inductive logic in this field.

Extensive use is made of the original writings of nineteenth-century chemists.

No previous training in chemistry, beyond that provided by the course referred to above, is required.

Option III

Cosmology. An outline of the history and methods of cosmology, from the earliest scientific cosmologies to those of the present day. Special attention is given to the role of models in cosmological inquiries and to the nature and desiderata of explanations in this field. Olbers' Paradox is closely considered; the bearings of the Principles of Relativity are noted; the course concludes with an account of the evolutionary and steady state theories.

Option IV

Defining Vitality. A study of a special physiological problem — the problem of how animal bodies are maintained at a temperature higher than the usual environmental temperature — with a view to illustrating the procedures and thought-processes of biologists. The course will include some experimental observations.

Option V

Some aspects of 19th-century physical science. A synoptic view of some 19th century developments in physical science considered especially as extensions of the Newtonian system. Emphasis will be placed on those developments which raise general methodological or philosophical issues.
Reference Books

Option I
van der Waerden, B. L.: Science Awakening (Noordhoff).

Option II

Option III
Hubble, E.: The Realm of the Nebulae (Dover).

Other Options:
Texts and references will be given in class.

PHYSICS

1.001 PHYSICS I

Text Books
Resnick and Halliday: Physics for Students of Science and Engineering, Vols. I and II or combined volume. (Particularly recommended for students with a good background in Physics and Mathematics); OR Ference, Lemon and Stephenson: Analytical Experimental Physics.

Students should also provide themselves with the tutorial aid: Curnow: Complementary Physics (New South Wales University Press).

Reference Books
Richards, Sears, Wehr and Zemansky: Modern University Physics.
Loney: Dynamics.
Starling and Woodall: Physics.

1.112 PHYSICS II

The lecture course will comprise 4 lectures per week on: Mechanics, Physical Optics, Thermodynamics, Kinetic Theory of Gases, Electricity and Magnetism, and Quantum Physics.

The laboratory course will be 3 hours per week.
Text Books

1. Winch: Electricity and Magnetism.
3. Littlefield and Thorley: Atomic and Nuclear Physics.

CHEMISTRY

2.001 CHEMISTRY I

A course of lectures, tutorials and practical work totalling six hours per week on the following topics:

Classification of matter and theories of the structure of matter. Atomic structure, the periodic table and chemical behaviour. Chemical bonds and molecular structure. Equilibrium and change in chemical systems. The structure, nomenclature and properties of organic compounds. Reactions of organic compounds.

Text Books

Reference Books

(for preliminary or supplementary reading)

2.002 CHEMISTRY II

In 1965 the analytical and physical chemistry sections will hold a series of co-ordinated lectures.

Students wishing to do 2.002 Chemistry II are advised to include Mathematics I in their curriculum.

A course consisting of lectures and practical work totalling nine hours per week. The subject matter is divided into four sections, as follows:

1. A course of 45 lectures together with practical work in organic chemistry, comprising aliphatic chemistry, aromatic chemistry, and an introduction to the chemistry of high polymers.

Text Books

2. A course of 45 lectures together with practical work in physical chemistry, covering the following topics:
   (a) The physical chemistry of ideal and real gases.
   (b) The first, second and third laws of thermodynamics and their application to chemical equilibria.
   (c) Ideal and non-ideal solutions.
   (d) Electro-chemistry and ionic equilibria.
   (e) Chemical kinetics.

Text Books

4. A course of 20 lectures together with practical work in analytical chemistry covering the following topics:
   (a) Acid-base titrations.
   (b) Volumetric methods involving electron-transfer reactions.
   (c) Precipitation and gravimetric analysis.
   (d) Titrations involving precipitate and complex ion formation.

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

17.001 GENERAL BIOLOGY
Two lectures, one three-hour practical class and one tutorial per week. Two obligatory field excursions are held during the year.

Text Books
Abercrombie, Hickman and Johnson: A Dictionary of Biology.
Stephenson and Mercer: General Biology Laboratory Manual, 1964 or later edition only.

17.301 BOTANY I
Variations in the morphology and anatomy of the Angiosperms, and an introduction to Angiosperm systematics.

Plant ecology lectures and practical work in the field and the laboratory dealing with the nature, measurement and inter-relationships of vegetation, soils and climate.

Plant physiology: the physiology of the cell and the whole plant in relation to water and solutes. Growth and development. An introduction to photosynthesis and respiration.

An introduction to genetics.
Practical work to illustrate the course; obligatory field excursions.

Text Books
(a) Esau: Anatomy of Seed Plants; OR
Eames and McDaniels: Introduction to Plant Anatomy.
(b) Bonner and Galston: Principles of Plant Physiology.
(c) Oosting: The Study of Plant Communities.
Srb and Owen: General Genetics.
(d) Beadle, Evans and Carolin: A Handbook of the Vascular Plants of the Sydney District and Blue Mountains.

17.401 ZOOLOGY I

Practical work to illustrate the lecture course.
Obligatory field excursions.

Text Books
Thorpe: Learning and Instinct in Animals, 1963.
GEOL0GY

25.511 GEOLOGY I

Geology in the first year is an introductory, comprehensive course which covers the general principles of Geology. It presupposes no prior knowledge of the subject.

The course extends over three terms with 2 lectures and 4 hours laboratory per week.

Physical Geology

Crystallography and Mineralogy

Introduction to crystallography — crystal symmetry, systems, forms, habit twinning.

Occurrence, form and physical properties of minerals. Descriptive mineralogy; mineral classification. Principal rock forming minerals.

Petrology

Igneous, sedimentary and metamorphic rocks — their field occurrence, lithological characteristics and structural relationships. Introduction to coal, oil and ore deposits.

Stratigraphy and Palaeontology

The basic principles of stratigraphy; introductory palaeontology. The geological time scale. An outline of the geological history of the Australian continent with more specific reference to New South Wales.

Practical Work

The preparation and interpretation of geological maps and sections. Map reading and use of simple geological instruments. The study of simple crystal forms and symmetry. The identification and description of common minerals and rocks in hand specimen. The recognition and description of examples of important fossil groups.

The course is supplemented by three field excursions, attendance at which is compulsory.

Preliminary Background Reading

Read, H. H.: Geology (Home University Library).

Text Books

McElroy, C. T.: Explanatory Notes to accompany the Sydney 4-mile Geological Map (with map). (Bureau Mineral Resources, Canberra.)

Reference Books

25.562 GEOLOGY II

Students who have successfully completed Geology I may proceed to Geology II for Arts Students (25.562) which consists of:

(a) Palaeontology—as given in 25.512 Geology II, 1 lecture and 1 hour laboratory per week (3 terms).

(b) Stratigraphy—as given in 25.512 Geology II, 1 lecture per week (3 terms).

(c) Geomorphology and Photogeology.

(d) Hand specimen Mineralogy and Petrology.

(c) and (d) each have two hours’ lecture/laboratory per week for approximately two terms.

Palaeontology

Systematic classification of the Invertebrate phyla with detailed morphological study of their important divisions. Introduction to the principles of palaeontology and its stratigraphic applications. Introduction to palaeobotany and vertebrate palaeontology.

Practical work: Examination and diagnostic description of representative fossils from the various phyla and study of their stratigraphical distribution.

Stratigraphy

Practical work: Field work to illustrate the above will be held during the year, attendance at which is compulsory. This includes one excursion of approximately one week and at least one short excursion. Mapping exercises in the laboratory and the field.

Geomorphology and Photogeology

The principles of geomorphology and landscape development. The geomorphology of New South Wales. Principles of photogeology and of photo-interpretation.

Practical work: Geomorphological and photogeological exercises will be carried out in the laboratory and during the one week field excursion.

Hand specimen Mineralogy and Petrology.

This is essentially a practical course which includes the classification and properties of mineral families. Special attention is given to the commoner rock-forming minerals and economically important ores found in New South Wales. Hand specimen classification and recognition of igneous, sedimentary and metamorphic rocks, particularly those occurring in New South Wales. Demonstration of the use of micropetrological apparatus.

Diploma Courses

In addition to the courses leading to the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, there are two Diploma Courses offered within the Faculty, the undergraduate diploma in Sociology and the graduate diploma in Librarianship.

DIPLOMA IN SOCIOLOGY

In addition to the Arts degree courses in Sociology, the School of Sociology offers a course lasting three years and leading to a Diploma in Sociology (Dip. Soc.). This course is designed essentially to meet the need of persons who are engaged in work calling for sociological knowledge and who wish to receive an academic training related to such work. It is intended to provide a specialised course dealing with principles of intelligent and effective social action, particularly as related to the achievement of satisfactory human relationships among groups of people whose social needs are greater than they can meet out of their own unaided resources.

The central subject of the course is Sociology, with supplementary teaching in other related fields. The course aims to provide a basis of understanding and knowledge upon which social techniques can subsequently be built in other courses or in experience in the work situation. At the third year level there will be specialisms in such fields as child welfare, criminology, youth welfare, migrant assimilation, etc., together with special seminars to study concrete problems of social action.

The course is shorter than that required for a B.A. degree, but the pass standards required of candidates for the Diploma in Sociology will be those of an Arts degree.

Note: SOCIAL WORK TRAINING

For persons contemplating a career in social work, the School of Sociology, in conjunction with other schools in the University, offers courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Social Work (B.Soc.Wk.). A separate brochure giving details of the degree requirements and outlines of courses is obtainable from the Registrar, or from the School of Sociology.

Entrance Requirements

Intending candidates should apply to the School of Sociology, The University of New South Wales, Kensington (663-0351) as early as possible.

Candidates for admission to the course shall be required:
(i) to have obtained matriculation by the recognised examination; or in the case of approved students over the age of 25 years, to have met the matriculation requirements of the University as set out in Section 4 (ii) of the matriculation requirements in the University Calendar.

(ii) to possess suitable personal qualities as determined by the Professorial Board on the advice of the Head of the School of Sociology.

Diploma Requirements

(i) Four major courses of not less than 90 hours per year, these courses to count towards an Arts degree.
(ii) Five minor courses, each of not less than 30 hours per year.
(iii) Advanced seminars, comprising 90 hours’ work, on practical administrative and field problems.
(iv) Presentation of a thesis. The thesis is to be a report of an investigation or project successfully carried out by the candidate under the supervision of the School of Sociology. The thesis must represent the original work of the student and may not be submitted for any other qualification. The thesis must be presented no later than three years after the completion of the other requirements, except by special permission under special circumstances.

53.232 SOCIOLOGY OF SOCIAL WORK
The course will deal with the history of social work and the evolution of a professional approach to it. Study will be made of fundamental principles of social work and the values institutionalised within it, such as the dignity of the human being and the personal responsibility of each individual for his own welfare. Description and forms of social work; case work, group work; community organisation. Methods and principles of activating key persons and groups in the community and of inter-group co-operation. Overcoming resistance in particular fields. Technique of motivating people and securing co-operation. Problems of communicating knowledge.

Reference Books
Merton and Nisbet: Contemporary Social Problems (Harcourt, Brace and World).

53.113 SOCIOLOGY IIIA
As for B.A. course; see description earlier in this Handbook.

53.213 SOCIAL ADMINISTRATION
This course will provide a short historical survey of the social services; methods in social policy, such as planning, legislation, administration and social work and the methods for their proper articulation; the relation between statutory and voluntary services; the problems of personnel recruitment and training in various fields of social service; problems of social policy under conditions of social change.

Reference Books
Hall, M. Penelope: Social Sources of Modern England (Routledge K. P.), 1953.

53.223 ELECTIVE
• Seminars will be arranged, taking into account the specialisations of the class members, on topics such as child welfare, marriage counselling, criminology, etc.
53.333 SOCIAL CASE WORK

This course will consist of lectures and seminars concerned with the practice of social work and will be related to the supervised field work which is an integral part of this course.

Students contemplating taking this course should discuss the matter with a representative of the School of Sociology.

DIPLOMA IN LIBRARIANSHIP

Requirements for the Award of the Diploma in Librarianship

Intending students are referred to the conditions for the award of graduate diplomas set out in the University Calendar.

Candidates for the award of the Diploma in Librarianship must meet the following requirements:

1. Hold a degree, other than in Librarianship, of an approved University.
2. Successfully complete the prescribed course of lectures, practical work and assignments.
3. Complete at least one year's employment in approved professional work.

ENROLMENT PROCEDURE

Applications for admission to the course should be made on the prescribed form which must be lodged with the Registrar at least one full calendar month before the course begins. The Registrar will advise applicants whether they are eligible to enrol. Successful applicants must complete their enrolment by attending at the office of the School of Librarianship, first floor, Dalton Chemistry Building, between 2.00 and 5.00 p.m., or 6.00 and 8.00 p.m. on Friday, 26th February, 1965.

FEES

Students enrolling in the Diploma Course in Librarianship must attend the appropriate enrolment centre as set out above under “Enrolment Procedure” for authorisation of their course programme.

Fees should be paid during the prescribed enrolment period, but will be accepted without a late fee being payable during the first two weeks of first term. No student is regarded as having completed an enrolment until fees have been paid. Fees will not be accepted (i.e. enrolment cannot be completed) after 31st March except with the express approval of the Registrar, which will be given in exceptional circumstances only.

In general, the provisions relating to the payment of fees by undergraduates apply equally to post-graduate students. Such provisions are set out under “Fees” on pages 21-24. In particular, the attention of students is drawn to the subsections dealing with Payment of Fees by Term, Assisted Students, Extension of Time, Failure to Pay Fees, Other Fees, Late Fees, and Withdrawal from the Course.
Fees
(i) Registration Fee £2
(ii) Award of Diploma Fee £3
(iii) Course Fee — calculated on the basis of a term's attendance at the rate of £2.10s.0d. per hour per week. Thus the fee for a programme requiring an attendance of 12 hours per week for the term is 12 x £2.10s.0d. = £30.0s.0d. per term.

Other Fees
Fees (ii)-(vi) as for undergraduate courses. See page 23.

Late Fees
As for undergraduate courses. See pages 23-24.
