Course Overview

Semester 1 - 2009
Unit Weighting 10
Teaching Methods Lecture, Tutorial, Case Study

Brief Course Description
Introduces students to the study of language: how children acquire language, its communicative function, the structure it has that enables language to work, and what language reveals about the nature of human beings and human behaviour. It introduces basic linguistic concepts, and looks at the different levels of linguistic analysis, language variation (sociolinguistics; language and medium; types of written text), acquisition of spoken and written language, and the analysis of English sentence structure.

Contact Hours
Lecture for 2 hours per week for the full term*
Tutorial for 1 hour per week for the full term*
*At Port Macquarie, equivalent hours are provided during Weeks 4, 8, and 12, subject to confirmation

Learning Materials/Texts
- You are also required to purchase, and bring to classes and tutorials, the Course Notes for LING1110 (these will be sent from UPrint to the Port Macquarie campus)
- Additional learning materials will be delivered via the course Blackboard site, available to enrolled students at <www.blackboard.newcastle.edu.au>
Course Objectives
1. understanding of the nature of language as the human communication system
2. understanding of the basic principles of English sentence structure, and ability to analyse simple English clause structures and to identify the functions of component parts of clauses
3. awareness of the interpersonal functions and social meanings associated with variation and choice in language use
4. awareness of differences in language variety and text types which result from choice of medium, function, or social context
5. understanding of the processes involved in children's acquisition of language and in the development of literacy
6. awareness of alternative theories of language learning processes

IMPORTANT UNIVERSITY INFORMATION
For detailed information see

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY
Academic integrity, honesty, and a respect for knowledge, truth and ethical practices are fundamental to the business of the University. These principles are at the core of all academic endeavour in teaching, learning and research. Dishonest practices contravene academic values, compromise the integrity of research and devalue the quality of learning. To preserve the quality of learning for the individual and others, the University may impose severe sanctions on activities that undermine academic integrity. There are two major categories of academic dishonesty:

Academic fraud is a form of academic dishonesty that involves making a false representation to gain an unjust advantage. Without limiting the generality of this definition, it can include:

a) falsification of data;
b) using a substitute person to undertake, in full or part, an examination or other assessment item;
c) reusing one’s own work, or part thereof, that has been submitted previously and counted towards another course (without permission);
d) making contact or colluding with another person, contrary to instructions, during an examination or other assessment item;
e) bringing material or device(s) into an examination or other assessment item other than such as may be specified for that assessment item; and
f) making use of computer software or other material and device(s) during an examination or other assessment item other than such as may be specified for that assessment item.
g) contract cheating or having another writer compete for tender to produce an essay or assignment and then submitting the work as one’s own.

Plagiarism is the presentation of the thoughts or works of another as one’s own. University policy prohibits students plagiarising any material under any circumstances. Without limiting the generality of this definition, it may include:

a) copying or paraphrasing material from any source without due acknowledgment;
b) using another person's ideas without due acknowledgment;
c) collusion or working with others without permission, and presenting the resulting work as though it were completed independently.

Turnitin is an electronic text matching system. During assessing any assessment item the University may:

- reproduce this assessment item and provide a copy to another member of the University; and/or
- communicate a copy of this assessment item to a text matching service (which may then retain a copy of the item on its database for the purpose of future checking).
- submit the assessment item to other forms of plagiarism checking

RE-MARKS AND MODERATIONS
Students can access the University's policy at: <http://www.newcastle.edu.au/policylibrary/000769.html>

MARKS AND GRADES RELEASED DURING TERM
All marks and grades released during term are indicative only until formally approved by the Head of School.

SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES AFFECTING ASSESSMENT ITEMS
Extension of Time for Assessment Items, Deferred Assessment and Special Consideration for Assessment Items or Formal Written Examinations items must be submitted by the due date in the Course Outline unless the Course Coordinator approves an extension. Unapproved late submissions will be penalised in line with the University policy specified in Late Penalty above.

Requests for Extensions of Time must be lodged no later than the due date of the item. This applies to students:
· applying for an extension of time for submission of an assessment item on the basis of medical, compassionate, hardship/trauma or unavoidable commitment; or · whose attendance at or performance in an assessment item or formal written examination has been or will be affected by medical, compassionate, hardship/trauma or unavoidable commitment.

Students must report the circumstances, with supporting documentation, as outlined in the Special Circumstances Affecting Assessment Items Procedure at: <http://www.newcastle.edu.au/policylibrary/000641.html>

Note: different procedures apply for minor and major assessment tasks.

Students should be aware of the following important deadlines:

- Special Consideration Requests must be lodged no later than 3 working days after the due date of submission or examination.
- Rescheduling Exam requests must be received no later than 10 working days prior the first date of the examination period.

Late applications may not be accepted. Students who cannot meet the above deadlines due to extenuating circumstances should speak firstly to their Program Officer or their Program Executive if studying in Singapore.

STUDENTS WITH A DISABILITY OR CHRONIC ILLNESS

The University is committed to providing a range of support services for students with a disability or chronic illness. If you have a disability or chronic illness which you feel may impact on your studies please feel free to discuss your support needs with your lecturer or course coordinator.

Disability Support may also be provided by the Student Support Service (Disability). Students must be registered to receive this type of support. To register contact the Disability Liaison Officer on 02 4921 5766, email at: <student-disability@newcastle.edu.au>. As some forms of support can take a few weeks to implement it is extremely important that you discuss your needs with your lecturer, course coordinator or Student Support Service staff at the beginning of each semester. For more information on confidentiality and documentation visit the Student Support Service (Disability) website: <www.newcastle.edu.au/services/disability>.

CHANGING YOUR ENROLMENT

Students enrolled after the census dates listed below are liable for the full cost of their student contribution or fees for that term.

For Semester 1 courses:
January
