ORIENTATION WEEK

Freshers will be introduced to the University and its procedures when the Students' Association holds a number of functions in Orientation Week - from 26th February to 4th March. The Union will be the venue for these functions.

New students will be provided with the opportunity to meet old students informally at a dance in the Union on the night of Friday, 23rd February. The Students' Association has hired Styx to provide the music. Admission costs $1 each and will be limited to students who can show their fee receipts, and friends (one friend a student). The organisers have emphasised that dress will be casual.

On Monday, 26th February, tours of the Library will be held for the benefit of new students at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. The Vice-Chancellor will give a welcoming address in the Courtyard beginning at 1 p.m.

On Tuesday, 27th February, the activities will include an address at 1 p.m. (speaker still to be arranged) and a reception and debate at 6.30 p.m.

REVIEW OF ACADEMIC SALARIES

The inquiry being conducted into academic salaries in universities will include discussions at the University on 27th and 28th February, the Vice-Chancellor stated.

Professor Auchmuty said Mr. Justice W.B. Campbell and his assessors would hear evidence from representatives of the University and the Staff Association. The University would not ask for specific increases in academic salaries but, instead, for salary standards comparable with similar occupations.

To conduct the enquiry, the Commonwealth Government appointed Mr. Justice Campbell, of the Supreme Court of Queensland, Professor R.L. Mathews,
Professor of Accounting and Public Finance of the Australian National University and Mr. M.C. Timbs.

The terms of reference of the enquiry are:

(a) To advise governments on the salaries or salary ranges for full-time members of the teaching staffs of universities which the Enquiry considers should be adopted by the Australian Universities Commission for the purpose of recommending grants to be made to universities for recurrent expenditure. The Enquiry shall make its recommendations with respect to the grades of lecturer, senior lecturer, reader or associate professor, and professor.

In coming to its conclusions, the Enquiry shall have regard to:

(i) the rates of salary in other occupations in Australia which have previously been taken into consideration, or may be regarded as relevant, in the determination of academic salaries;

(ii) the requirement to attract and retain a sufficient number of persons of the needed quality;

(iii) the qualifications, functions, responsibilities and other attributes or factors required in the performance of the various levels of academic work;

(iv) the desirability or otherwise of establishing several salary levels for professors to take account of special merit, responsibility or the requirements of particular disciplines.

(b) To advise governments on the percentage increases which the Enquiry considers appropriate in the salary ranges for full-time members of the teaching staffs in sub-lecturer grades.

(c) To advise governments on the establishment of permanent machinery for future reviews of salaries for full-time members of the academic staffs of universities and colleges of advanced education and on the nature of such machinery, its powers and its procedures.

UNION EXTENSIONS

Building alterations to the kitchen and staff areas of the Union should be completed by the start of term, the Secretary/Manager, Mr. W.V. Bridgwater stated.

Mr. Bridgwater added that tenders for the construction of major additions to the Union (Stage III) would close on 5th March. While this project was being carried out, students would suffer some inconvenience; this will be unavoidable but the long-term results will be worth it.

The building alterations now being done in the vicinity of the kitchen would create a number of advantages, among which were a reduction in queueing, the improvement of male and female staff recreation rooms and the separation of the coffee bar from the cafeteria.

The coffee bar in the dining room was being transformed into a fast service/take-away food bar where light hot meals, such as fish and chips, pies, pasties, rolls and hamburgers, would be served.

A coffee bar had been established in the old Lounge. The furniture would consist of low tables and comfortable armchairs and a door would give access to an outdoor barbeque area.

Mr. Bridgwater said the male and female staff toilets/showers had been altered so that the size of each area was doubled. Work had nearly finished on the construction of a new staff amenities room (24' x 16') with a table, hand basins and divans. A start had recently been made on the construction of a new store measuring 34' x 32'.
As regards the major extensions (to be carried out at the main entrance of the Union) the project would be fully explained by means of a display of photographs and plans in the entrance gallery. A number of church pews were recently bought and placed under the eaves in the Courtyard so that more leisure seating would be available.

The main entrance would be closed for approximately a year, for which period temporary entrances would operate adjacent to the Union office and the new coffee bar.

During term, Union catering services will be provided at these times:

Cafeteria, Monday to Friday, 11.45 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 4.30 to 6.30 p.m.; Fast Food Bar, Monday to Friday, 11.45 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 4.30 to 7 p.m.; Common Room Servery, Monday to Friday, 9.30 a.m. to 2.15 p.m. and 4.45 to 6 p.m.; and New Coffee Bar in Lounge, Monday to Friday, 11 a.m. to 9.15 p.m. and Saturday, 11 a.m. to 5.30 p.m.

GRADUATES' PRESIDENT

Mr. J.P. Talty, who was Warden of Convocation of the University of Newcastle in 1970 and 1971, has been elected President of the Australian University Graduate Conference. Mr. Talty will hold the position until the conference is reconvened in Newcastle next year.

The Australian University Graduate Conference embodies representatives of graduates' and alumni associations connected to universities in Australia. Mr. Talty (Immediate Past Warden), Mr. W.G. Derkenne (Warden) and Miss F. Burns (Secretary) were delegates from the Convocation of the University of Newcastle at this year's conference at the University of Queensland.

Mr. Talty said the conference had decided on the University of Newcastle as the venue for 1973. The conference had not been held in Newcastle before.

GRADUATION BALL

This year's Graduation Ball on 16th March will be the first held at the University. Previously, Convocation, which organises the ball, had no alternative to using a hall (the City Hall) miles from the University.

The change of location has been made possible by the construction of the Great Hall, which is to be one of two venues for the 1973 ball. The Union will be the other. There will be dancing from 8.30 p.m. until 1.30 a.m., with the Graduation Waltz scheduled for 10 p.m. The Harbourside Six and Gordon Favell's Band will provide music for dancing in the Great Hall; Delta will be the band in the Union.

Tickets cost $5.50 each and can only be obtained for cash. Loges accommodate 16 people. Ten tickets must be bought before a separate loge can be reserved. Admission to the gallery is free. Tickets can be bought from Mrs. N. Emanuel (Room 170 in the Arts/Administration Building) between 10 a.m. and noon and 3 and 4.30 p.m.

Miss F. Burns, Secretary of the Standing Committee of Convocation, and Mr. E. Buckman, a Member of the University Council elected by Convocation, are organising the Ball.

A three-course dinner, plus coffee, costs $1 from the cafeteria and $1.30 from the waitress.

UNIVERSITY SKILLS ASSESSMENT

Each year the University Counselling Service invites First year students to take part in a group programme aimed at assessing some of the abilities involved in handling university studies. The test results also act as an objective basis for individual counselling or setting-up special remedial programmes (e.g. study skills). The test results remain strictly confidential to the Counselling Service.

In 1972, more than 100 students discussed these results in individual interviews with counsellors and many others benefited by group programmes either on specific topics or general group discussion on university life.

Students should realize that many who chose not to take part later expressed regret, as they felt that they would have benefited from the University Skills Assessment programme. In previous years employers have generously given part-time students the time off to attend this programme realizing that it is in their best interests.

This year's Assessment will be conducted on Thursday, 22nd February, between 1.30 and 4.30 p.m. First year students enrolled in the Faculties of Arts and Economics and Commerce are asked to go to the Main Lecture Theatre (B 01) (near the Administration Building) and First year students enrolled in all other Faculties to the Science Lecture Theatre (H 01) (near the Chemistry Building).

INTENSIVE READING AND STUDY SKILLS COURSES

The University Counselling Service is offering three intensive courses, each consisting of six sessions, before first term starts for university students who will be studying at the University this year. The courses are aimed at improving reading speed and comprehension. Some study skills will also be developed during the course.

Students are invited to join one of these courses: Course A, 10 a.m. to noon; Course B, 2 to 4 p.m. or Course C, 5.30 to 7.30 p.m.

Each course consists of sessions being run between the above hours on: 12th, 14th, 16th, 19th, 21st and 23rd February. All courses are being conducted in the Main Lecture Theatre (B 01).

For students unable to attend these courses, the Counselling Service will run a further Reading Course starting in the fourth week of first term (19.3.73). Details will be advertised in the Union early in first term.

Fruitless Trip

A long drive last weekend proved unrewarding for a cricket team from the University of Queensland. Constant rain caused the team and its host, the University of Newcastle, to decide against playing against each other last Monday and to play "40 overs a side" on Tuesday. However, further rain fell on Tuesday making play impossible.

The University of Queensland XI was captained by John Buchanan. Mr. W.E.P. Harris, the team's manager, said his players were looking forward to returning to Newcastle for the intervarsity cricket carnival next season. Queensland had not sent a side to Flinders University of South Australia this season because of the great distance from Brisbane.
