FULL MONTH OF DRAMA AHEAD

"A Dream Play", by August Strindberg, will be the first student theatrical production scheduled for presentation in the Arts/Drama Theatre in the next month.

"A Dream Play" will be presented by the Student Players on July 2, 3, 4 and 6. It will be produced by Dianna Searle and Dianne Gatgens, Warren Johnson, Milorad Pavlovic, Paul Lee, Peter Day, Anne Picton, Ken Dray, Cathy McDonald, Peter Hill, Rosemary Cocker, Philip Longworth and Robyn Melick form the cast. Miss Searle has specially concentrated on lighting and sound effects in an endeavour to achieve the author's object of reproducing "the disconnected but partly logical form of a dream".

Strindberg wrote "A Dream Play" in 1901. It was the second of a series of fantasy plays and was not performed until 1908 because of its staging difficulties. The utilisation of complex theatrical techniques made it a quite revelatory production in 1909. Strindberg considered the play to be his masterpiece.

"Hello and Goodbye", a much-applauded play by young South African playwright Athol Fugard, will be presented in the Drama Theatre on July 8 and 9 under the auspices of the Department of Community Programmes. The leading roles are taken by Anthony Wheeler and Leila Blake and the production is directed by Peter Williams.

Katherine Brisbane, writing in The Australian, said 'Fugard's is a unique voice crying from a wilderness. Wheeler and Blake act with the same passionate conviction with which the author himself projects what he believes'. Nation Review remarked that "the experience of this play is direct, intimate and powerful, thanks to strong acting performances from Leila Blake and Anthony Wheeler, sensitive direction, and writing that is never condescending or clinical in its presentation of bitter poverty, unhappiness, and bigotry." H.G. Kippax (The Sydney Morning Herald) and Suzie Eisenhuth (The Sydney Telegraph) also spoke in glowing terms of the success of the production.

Bookings can be made at D.J.'s and the Union Shop, where tickets cost $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students.

The German Club will put on two short plays in the Drama Theatre on 12th and 13th July. "Selbstbeschützung", by Peter Haudke, will be produced by Mr. J.D. Stowell, and, "Der Fahrend Schuhler in Paradies", by Hans Sachs, will be produced by Dr. F. Walla.

The Classics Society is busy rehearsing its cast for performances of the Greek tragedy, "Antigone", on July 20, 22 and 23. Parts have been allotted as follows: Antigone, Anne Armstrong; Ismene, Dottie Lee; Creon, Ken Dray; Guard, John Bryan; Haemon, Mike Carr; Teiresias, Antony Hoystead; Messenger, Paul Gibson; Eurydice, Michelle Bryan and Queen's Servant, Elisabeth Andrews. FREE TAX SERVICE,
(or Let Your Worries be those of Someone Else)

"Gifted" students in Taxation, assisted by "not so gifted" members of staff, will volunteer (?) their services at lunchtimes to answer (hopefully) any problems you may have in filling out and filing your tax return this year.

The service (?) is free of charge and will be available at lunchtime (1 to 2 p.m.) each Tuesday and Wednesday during July. More times will be made available if the demand becomes great.

The service will commence on Wednesday, 3rd July, and will be given in Room S07 in the Social Sciences Building, which will be the permanent venue for the service. It is designed to answer particular questions people have about their tax returns; it is NOT (nor will it be) a complete return service (i.e., those people who come along expecting their returns to be filled out from "go to woa" will be disappointed).

Examples of questions that may arise could include: (i) a student may have just purchased a calculator and wants to know whether he can claim the cost; (ii) a member of staff who has just sold his block of land and got married may like to know whether he will be taxed on the profit arising from the sale of the land and whether he is entitled a partial deduction (or complete write-off) in respect of his wife.

Each question will be answered on the information provided, we do not want to know the present state of your financial affairs, its sordid past or future (if any). Red (or green, if preferred) carpet treatment will be offered to all tax payers whether they be members of staff or students.

Whilst an attempt will be made to give correct answers and advice, no liability will be accepted for damages resulting from incorrect advice.

DEVELOPMENTS IN THE LIBRARY

Material on Microcard
The University Library has recently purchased a new Readex Model D for reading opaque microcards. Items held on microcard include:

The Commission was given the task of examining and reporting upon the vast wealth of manuscript material preserved in different parts of the United Kingdom by corporations, colleges and private individuals. Each report consists of two main parts: The Commissioners' Report to the Crown (giving an account of their activities) and an Appendix containing Inspectors' reports to the Commissioners on particular collections of manuscripts examined.

Not more than 10-15 complete sets of this great series are still in existence in the original form. The method of organisation still followed was laid down by Speaker Abbott, later Lord Colchester. All the bills and papers are put together into a single series of volumes for each session, with the following sub-series: Bills; Reports of Commissioners; Accounts and Papers; Reports of Committees. Each volume has its title and contents pages and the last volume of the session contains numerical lists of the Bills of the Papers, and of the Command Papers, all supplemented by an alphabetical subject index.

"Japonica"
A recent addition to the Library's reference shelves is the 23-volume general encyclopedia "Japonica", which was presented to the Library by Shogakukan, a leading Japanese publishing company, to foster the understanding of Japan and the Japanese. Although the text will be inaccessible to most readers, the two-atlas volumes and the many fine colour illustrations will repay inspection.

Great Britain. Public Record Office. Lists and Indexes.
The Library holdings of the Lists and Indexes will shortly be augmented by the purchase of the Supplementary Series, issued by Kraus-Thomson. The Lists and Indexes afford a means of reference to the Public Records of Great Britain, which the same firm is currently publishing in microform at the rate of 400-500 reels per year. The Library has been advised that Fisher Library in the University of Sydney is to purchase the complete microfilm set, which offers a selection coming from previously unpublished source materials (letters, dispatches, reports, etc.) which are not duplicated by sessional papers or other published series. Some of the early subject areas covered will be: American Loyalist Claims, North America, China, and Japan.

LEGAL STUDIES CLUB
Membership of the Legal Studies Club is now open. For details see: Larry Hafey (third year), Paul McDonald (Industrial Law), Ken Fraser (third and second years), Phil Thompson (third year), Andrew Frater (first year) or Jackie Bagnall (third year).
Students have been invited to a meeting in the Common Room of the Union on Tuesday, 9th July, at 1 p.m. Mr. Ron Masterson, a member of the Australian Trade Union delegation which visited Chile earlier this year, will speak and show films about Chile. Another visiting speaker will be Mr. Emanuel Pitharoulis, President of the Greek Seamen's Union Outside Greece and Secretary-General of the Greek United Trade Union Anti-Dictatorship Movement. "The Struggle for Restoration of the Democracy in Greece" will be his topic and the meeting will be held on Monday, July 15, from 1 to 2 p.m. in the Courtyard of the Union.

As Research Director of the A.I.I.A. and Professor of International Relations at A.N.U., Professor Bull is an important leader of opinion. Sydney-born, he became a Lecturer and later Reader in International Relations at the London School of Economics between 1955 and 1965, when he became Director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Research Unit at the Foreign Office. In 1967, he returned to Australia to take his chair in Canberra.
